Ginger Snaps North Carolina Coast

MOREHEAD CITY, N.C. — Hurricane Ginger slammed into the North Carolina coast today with 90 mile-an-hour winds that ripped off store fronts and leveled power poles and trees. A cargo ship off Cape Hatteras was reported in trouble.

The Coast Guard said a 500-foot cargo ship identified as the Caribbean Enterprise was in difficulty with shifting cargo, but did not appear in immediate danger of sinking.

Morehead City, a coastal resort town of 9,000 population best known for its charter fishing operations, was in the center of the hurricane's path as the storm began moving ashore before daybreak.

Morehead City lost electric power as the winds ripped down power lines and poles in the streets, littered with signs of destruction. The Red Cross said several thousand persons were in its shelters set up at a number of coastal points, including about 500 who were moved from low areas to Morehead City.

In nearby Beaufort, Civil Defense Director Harry Williams looked out his window as dawn broke and said, "It looks like an obstacle course out there."

The Coast Guard station at Ft. Macon next to Morehead City was operating on emergency power and Marlan Murphy, the operations officer, was mainly concerned with the Caribbean Enterprise, headed for the Dominican Republic with tractor-trailer rigs loaded on its deck.

"It radioed it was having difficulty with heavy seas and the cargo shifting," Murphy said. "It lost one trailer cargo over the side and reported it was steaming at four to five knots east trying to avoid the full force of the hurricane."

Murphy did not know the ship's point of registry, but said it was located about 115 miles east northeast of Cape Hatteras.

New Bern, a short distance inland from Morehead City, also lost its power as the storm ripped ashore, along with Atlantic Beach adjacent to Morehead City. Some minor flooding was reported on low-lying streets near the Neuse River at New Bern.

The sheriff's office at Beaufort said there were "some trees down and a lot of electric lines down" and a house trailer was overturned. It had been evacuated before the winds came.

The National Hurricane Center in Miami warned that tides would run as high as seven feet above normal during the hurricane.

Hurricane warnings were displayed from Wilmington to Virginia Beach, Va., and gale warnings flew as far north as Rehoboth Beach, Del.

The big hurricane, with the size of the storm meant up North Carolina's outer coastal areas would be hit earlier by hurricane force winds. State officials and the Red Cross hurriedly set up emergency centers Wednesday afternoon to care for the homeless and injured.

Gale-force winds of around 50 miles an hour were recorded late Wednesday night on the thin stretch of islands making up North Carolina's outer banks, and the seas were high and fierce, with tides well above normal.

State officials were particularly concerned about the residents of Oak Island, including Long Beach and Yaupon Beach. The Red Cross said all vacationers, ill and elderly persons were evacuated from those areas, but "a few residents are hanging on."

Senate Votes Again On Pullout Motion

WASHINGTON (AP) — For the second time in less than four months the Senate is set to approve a call for total U.S. withdrawal from Indochina in a specified period—this time, six months.

Nixon administration supporters conceded in advance of a vote today they would be unable to stop Senate approval of Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield's withdrawal amendment. It's being attached to a $21-billion military procurement bill.

They expect, however, the House will reject such a measure as it has before. And, they said, Senate-House conferees probably will water down a Mansfield amendment, as they had when one was offered on the draft-extension bill.

Before tackling the withdrawal issue, the Senate votes on a move by Sen. Thomas F. Eagleton, D-Mo., to delete $35.3 million added by the Senate Armed Services Committee to $27.5 million approved for the Main Battle Tank program.

Also due for debate was an effort by Sen. J.W. Fulbright, D-Ark., to delete a provision breaking the United Nations embargo on trade with Rhodesia. An earlier effort failed.

Wednesday, administration forces easily defeated attempts to cut back two of the Pentagon's most-criticized weapons projects, the Navy F14 fighter plane and the safeguard anti-ballistic-missile system.

By a vote of 61 to 28, the Senate shot down Sen. William Proxmire's amendment to cut $801.6 million for production of 48 F14s. Proxmire, D-Wis., contended the existing F4 fighter, with slight modifications, could perform better than the F14.

Then by a lopsided count of 64 to 21, the Senate swept aside this year's effort to limit the ABM. A number of leading arms-control advocates announced acceptance of the administration's contention the ABM is needed as a bargaining chip for the U.S.-Soviet strategic arms limitation talks (SALT).

Some U.S. naval personnel in Saigon were restricted to their quarters because of what reliable informants said were reports that snipers might be active in the vicinity of Navy headquarters.

The newly formed Committee Against Dictatorship consists of leading national and religious figures, and the militant An Quang Buddhist faction, issued communiques urging voters to boycott the election and to repudiate the results.

The committee, headed by Hoa Hao sect politician Trinh Quoc Khanh, called on "all classes of people to unify in struggle against Nguyen Van Thieu, the dictator." It announced plans to hold a "people's congress" Friday to unify the opposition to the election.

The committee said it expects 2,000 delegates from throughout South Vietnam to attend the meeting at Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky's government guest house.

Ky, who charged the election is rigged and refused to run after being reinstated on the ballot, has lent his name to the organization but has remained behind the scenes.

In the Senate 28 senators postponed debate on a bill to discuss the election.

Sen. Ton That Dinh, publisher of the pro-Buddhist paper Cong Luan accused Thieu "of taking forceful measures against the press by deliberately seizing opposition publications" even though he had pledged Sept. 2 to give the opposition a hearing.

Dozens of editions of papers have been confiscated by police recently, the usual reason being that they are carrying articles which "confuse" people, and endanger national security.

The government today announced confiscation of seven papers and the indefinite closing of a news service.

Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., who led the bitter 1969 and 1970 fights to stop SALT, said he switched this year after visiting the arms talks.

"It is my firm belief," he said, "that an agreement on ABM at a very low level of deployment, an agreement completely consistent with U.S. security, is attainable by this calendar year."

Meanwhile, in Saigon political foes of President Nguyen Van Thieu renewed a call today for a voters' boycott of Sunday's one-man presidential election and prepared for a "people's congress" to unite opposition factions.

Members of South Vietnam's Senate, in a two-hour debate, accused Thieu of "oppressing the press" by confiscating anti-government newspapers. They called on Thieu to order a special lower house session to write a new election law.

Police, meanwhile, arrested eight students possessing gasoline firebombs in a Saigon market place and sent reinforcements to several markets where reports indicated student activity might increase.

The arrests brought to 74 the number of persons taken into custody in three days of anti-Thieu protests in the capital. Most of them apparently have been released.

Da Nang, the nation's second largest city, was reported quiet but tense following three days of clashes between police and antigovernment veterans, students and Buddhist monks.

When Nixon announced his new economic program Aug. 15, he placed a 10 per cent surcharge upon foreign goods entering the United States and took the dollar off the gold standard, placing the dollar in a better trade position. Both moves have been strongly criticized by foreign nations.

But Nixon promised Wednesday the surcharge would be only temporary. He also called for "a new, permanent restructuring of the world monetary situation and not just a short-term proposition."

In other economic developments: —The Cost of Living Council, created to set policy for the 90-day wage-price freeze put into effect Aug. 15, decreed its first exemption to the freeze. It said certain group insurance plans in Florida, Texas and Missouri could take effect although they would give policy holders increased benefits. The council said teachers and other state and county employees in the three states had dropped previous insurance plans and signed up for new ones before the freeze began.

—The House Ways and Means Committee gave formal approval to $15.4 billion in tax cuts over three years. Congressional leaders have predicted prompt House and Senate approval, which would mean small tax price of gold emerged today from a proposal by Dutch Finance Minister R. J. Nelissen.

Nelissen wants a new, lower value set for the dollar in terms of the average price it brings against other major currencies in the open market. The price of the dollar has dropped about 10 per cent in terms of the West German mark since the mark began floating on the open market in May.

Police and defense lawyers are all willing to contribute their time and talents to the project, he said.

Dr. Herman B. Snow of Hudson River State Hospital and Dr. Emeline Hayward of the Ulster County Mental Health Center will instruct concerning police handling of mental patients. Domestic complaints and the manner of dealing with them will be taught by Robert Murphy, former police chief in the City of Kingston.

Superintendent Maurice Blow of the Eastern Correctional Facility at Napanoch will also address the class and the Secret Service, Narcotics Control and U.S. Postal inspectors will all instruct in areas pertaining to their fields.

Those completing the course will also receive an American Red Cross Safety Certificate.

In authorizing the sheriff to institute the school, the state's Division for Local Police told Martin that the Municipality Police Training Council "salutes" the many persons who will be making an invaluable contribution to the training effort. "Without the services of these dedicated persons, such a training program could not possibly operate."

Sheriff Martin said he is enthusiastic about being able to provide training for local police close to home. Traveling elsewhere has been costly in terms of time and money, he said.

If the first school is successful, future instruction available locally on a continuing basis.

BOOKS FOR KHS — Dan H. Allen (L) principal of Kingston High School, accepts copies of the New York Legislative Manual and the New York Red Book. Raymond Armater in making the presentation noted that with the new voting age and the increased student interest in political change, the set of books would be a good addition to the high school library. Allen accepted and noted that it was a pleasure to have a fellow classmate and past president of the school return for a visit. (Freeman photo by Kruh).

A Tivoli Expansion Is Planned

TIVOLI Hook Zoning Board of Appeals. A public hearing date of Oct. 6 at 8:45 p.m. has been set on the units and has asked for a special proposal of Robert S. Meyer. The park is on Route 9G immediately to the north of the Village of Tivoli.

The present designation of the area is three acres agricultural and residential.

Meyer had been after the village to supply water to the park area, but permission was denied by the Board of Trustees on the grounds that there might then be insufficient water for village residents.

The Weather

THURSDAY, SEPT. 30, 1971

Sun rises at 5:51 a.m.; sun sets at 5:41 p.m. E.S.T.

Weather Forecast
Weather: Mostly Sunny.

Lower Hudson Valley:

Some early morning cloudiness in southern sections, otherwise mostly sunny today, highs in the mid to upper 70s. Increasing cloudiness late tonight, lows in the 50s. Tomorrow mostly cloudy, highs in the upper 60s to mid 70s. Winds northwest five to 12 miles an hour today, light and variable tonight, southeast six to 12 miles an hour tomorrow.

Paper Drive In Red Hook

RED HOOK The United Methodist Church of Red Hook is sponsoring a paper drive Oct. 9. There will be a truck at the parking lot on that day to receive the papers.

Those who cannot bring papers to the parking lot may call the church office Monday, Wednesday or Friday 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. to make arrangements for pick up on or before the collection date.

Octoberfest Set

The Onteora High School Booster Club has made final arrangements for the Octoberfest to be held Saturday 3 to 9 p.m. at the Lester S. Davis Recreation Center, West Shokan.

Tickets are being sold by all club members and must be obtained before noon Friday as none will be sold at the recreation center the day of the event. Rain date is Oct. 3.

Two Red Hook Zoning Features

RED HOOK Two outstanding features of proposed zoning changes in the Town of Red Hook, resulting from a special committee's report, are reported to be tighter zoning restrictions on planned developments and a special area of the town set aside for mobile home parks.

The plans have not yet been subject to the scrutiny of the Dutchess County Department of Planning. They will be put before the public and the Town Board when reviewed.

Most of the changes are said to be minor, involving definitions and wording changes. Several pages of changes are suggested for planned developments and a medium density residential district south of the village.

Several requests for zoning changes by development corporations over the past several months, which have aroused the public mostly in opposition, have been instrumental in producing some changes.

And there are several mobile home parks in the district proposed for this in the Metzgar, Norton and Yantz Road area in the Mudder Kill basin.

This area, partly designated highway business, might have some of that district erased along Route 9.

Regarding housing subdivisions, the proposal would call for a minimum of 250 acres instead of the present 50, with some provisions for smaller developments.

And there have been some changes made and suggested for swifter implementation of requests and responses for such items as zoning changes, variances, and special permits.

Rogers and Gromyko

Arms Control Pact Signing

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Secretary of State William P. Rogers and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko agreed today to sign two arms control agreements between the capitals.

Gromyko invited Rogers to lunch at the Soviet embassy following the ceremony. The social event was the final step in a series of high-level American and Soviet consultations on world issues.

House spokesmen said that both statesmen agreed that "some steady progress" had been made on reaching an agreement to limit costly anti-ballistic missile systems. But White House Press Officer Ronald L. Ziegler left the impression at his news briefing that the United States and Soviet Union were still divided over what measures to take on limiting offensive strategic weapons.

Ziegler said that Nixon remained "hopeful for additional forward movement" at the Strategic Arms Limitation Talks (SALT) which reconvene in Helsinki, Finland, in November.

On May 20, 1971, Nixon, in a formal White House statement, said that the United States and Soviet Union would concentrate this year on seeking an agreement to limit anti-ballistic missile defense systems.

On other issues, Gromyko and Nixon discussed the Middle East situation, the Vietnam war, and prospects for improving European security through reduction of NATO and Communist forces in Central Europe.

THEIR THIRD — Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko called on President Nixon at the White House Wednesday. It was the third meeting in three years between the two men. Gromyko is in the United States to attend the United Nations General Assembly session. (UPI TELEPHOTO).

No Break in Dock Dispute, 45,000 May Strike Tonight

NEW YORK (AP) — The AFL-CIO International Longshoremen's Association and New York shipping firms were deadlocked today in a contract extension dispute that could result in a midnight strike by 45,000 East and Gulf Coast dock workers.

West coast ports have been closed for 90 days by the striking International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union. An ILA walkout would mean that every deep water port in the country was shut down for dry cargo shipments.

At issue is a guaranteed annual wage provision in the current ILA contract. The New York Shipping Association has pledged to halt the guaranteed payments when the contract expires at midnight. The ILA says it won't work without them.

Representatives of other East and Gulf Coast ports from Maine to Texas have announced their intention of joining any New York harbor strike.

President Nixon said last Sunday that he would "automatically" invoke the Taft-Hartley Act provision for an 80-day "cooling off" period if the ILA struck while the West Coast port tieup was still on.

James J. Dickman, chief negotiator for the NYSA, said Wednesday the shippers would "strenuously fight a Taft-Hartley injunction in the courts" because it would have the effect of continuing the guaranteed wage clause.

ILA President Thomas Gleason said the union executive council decided Wednesday to continue working for the duration of President Nixon's wage-price freeze "providing the terms of the contract are unchanged." The freeze ends Nov. 13.

In effect, a Taft-Hartley injunction would give the ILA the contract extension it seeks and allow it to negotiate a new pact after the President has announced the limitations of Phase 2 of his economic program.

The shippers association wants to eliminate the guaranteed annual wage because it claims the dock workers have abused the provision. The clause assures New York's 18,000 longshoremen of 40 hours a week pay throughout the year, whether there is work for them or not.

Containerization and other new technology have increased productivity to the point where the stevedores are handling 500,000 more tons of cargo than in 1966 with 3,500 fewer longshoremen and checkers.

The clause was negotiated by the union to protect its members from such job attrition but management claims the provision cost them $30 million last year.

Still Secrets Inside Attica

ATTICA, N.Y. (UPI) — The 30-foot walls of Attica still hold many of the secrets of what happened during the five-day rebellion which claimed 42 lives — but a new round of second-hand reports began emerging Wednesday as relatives were again allowed to visit inmates.

Many of the estimated first-day's 250 visitors told newsmen afterward of harassment. Some said things hadn't changed. Others told of beatings and mistreatment.

Most details of what occurred after the uprising began Sept. 9 have not been made public, primarily because prison officials have been instructed by state investigators not to comment so as not to hinder possible criminal actions being studied.

Some of the sharpest words to come out of the prison Wednesday were spoken by Dorothy Zapfel of the Buffalo suburb of Cheektowaga.

Mrs. Zapfel, whose son, Wayne Trimmer, is an inmate, said that after authorities quelled the revolt Sept. 13, her son said prison officials "picked him out — outside of I don't know how many prisoners — to stand against the wall like a firing squad."

"He thought, 'Well, this is it' — that he was going to die then," Mrs. Zapfel said. She said he and others were beaten with the butts of guns, baseball bats and sticks, and had to run through broken glass with bare feet.

"He's still picking glass out of his feet," she said. "He said he's even got burns on his back where they put their cigarette butts out."

Deputy Correction Commissioner Walter Dunbar issued a statement — "in response to allegations made by visitors" — saying any specific complaints of physical mistreatment are to be investigated by Deputy Attorney General Robert E. Fischer.

In Albany, state officials met for three hours with leaders of the union representing prison guards to discuss union demands for reform. The union, which has threatened to lock all convicts in their cells beginning Oct. 7 said that, although "some progress" was made, no major concessions were given by either side and that both sides planned another meeting "early next week."

Most of those who visited relatives at Attica refused to divulge their names to newsmen. One man said his son told him the inmates were being fed better than they were before the rioting. One woman said her son said things were about the same as before.

A main complaint voiced by visitors was that inmates said their personal possessions had been taken away. Missing items listed included watches, eyeglasses and false teeth.

No Agreement With Guards Yet

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Representatives of state prison guards met with State Corrections Commissioner Russell G. Oswald Wednesday, but reached no agreement to avert a threatened "lock-in" of prisoners Oct. 7, a guard spokesman said.

"No major concessions were made by the commissioner," said a spokesman for Council 82 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, which represents the state's correctional officers.

The union spokesman said there would be another meeting with state officials early next week, possibly Monday.

The guards issued a list of seven demands in the wake of the Attica state prison rebellion which left 42 dead, including six guards.

Among the union demands was one for special riot equipment. More guards, training, special compensation for Attica guard victims and better prisoner treatment also are sought.

"There was a closer meeting of the minds on the question of equipment than anything else," the union spokesman said.

The union representatives and state officials met for about three hours, he said.

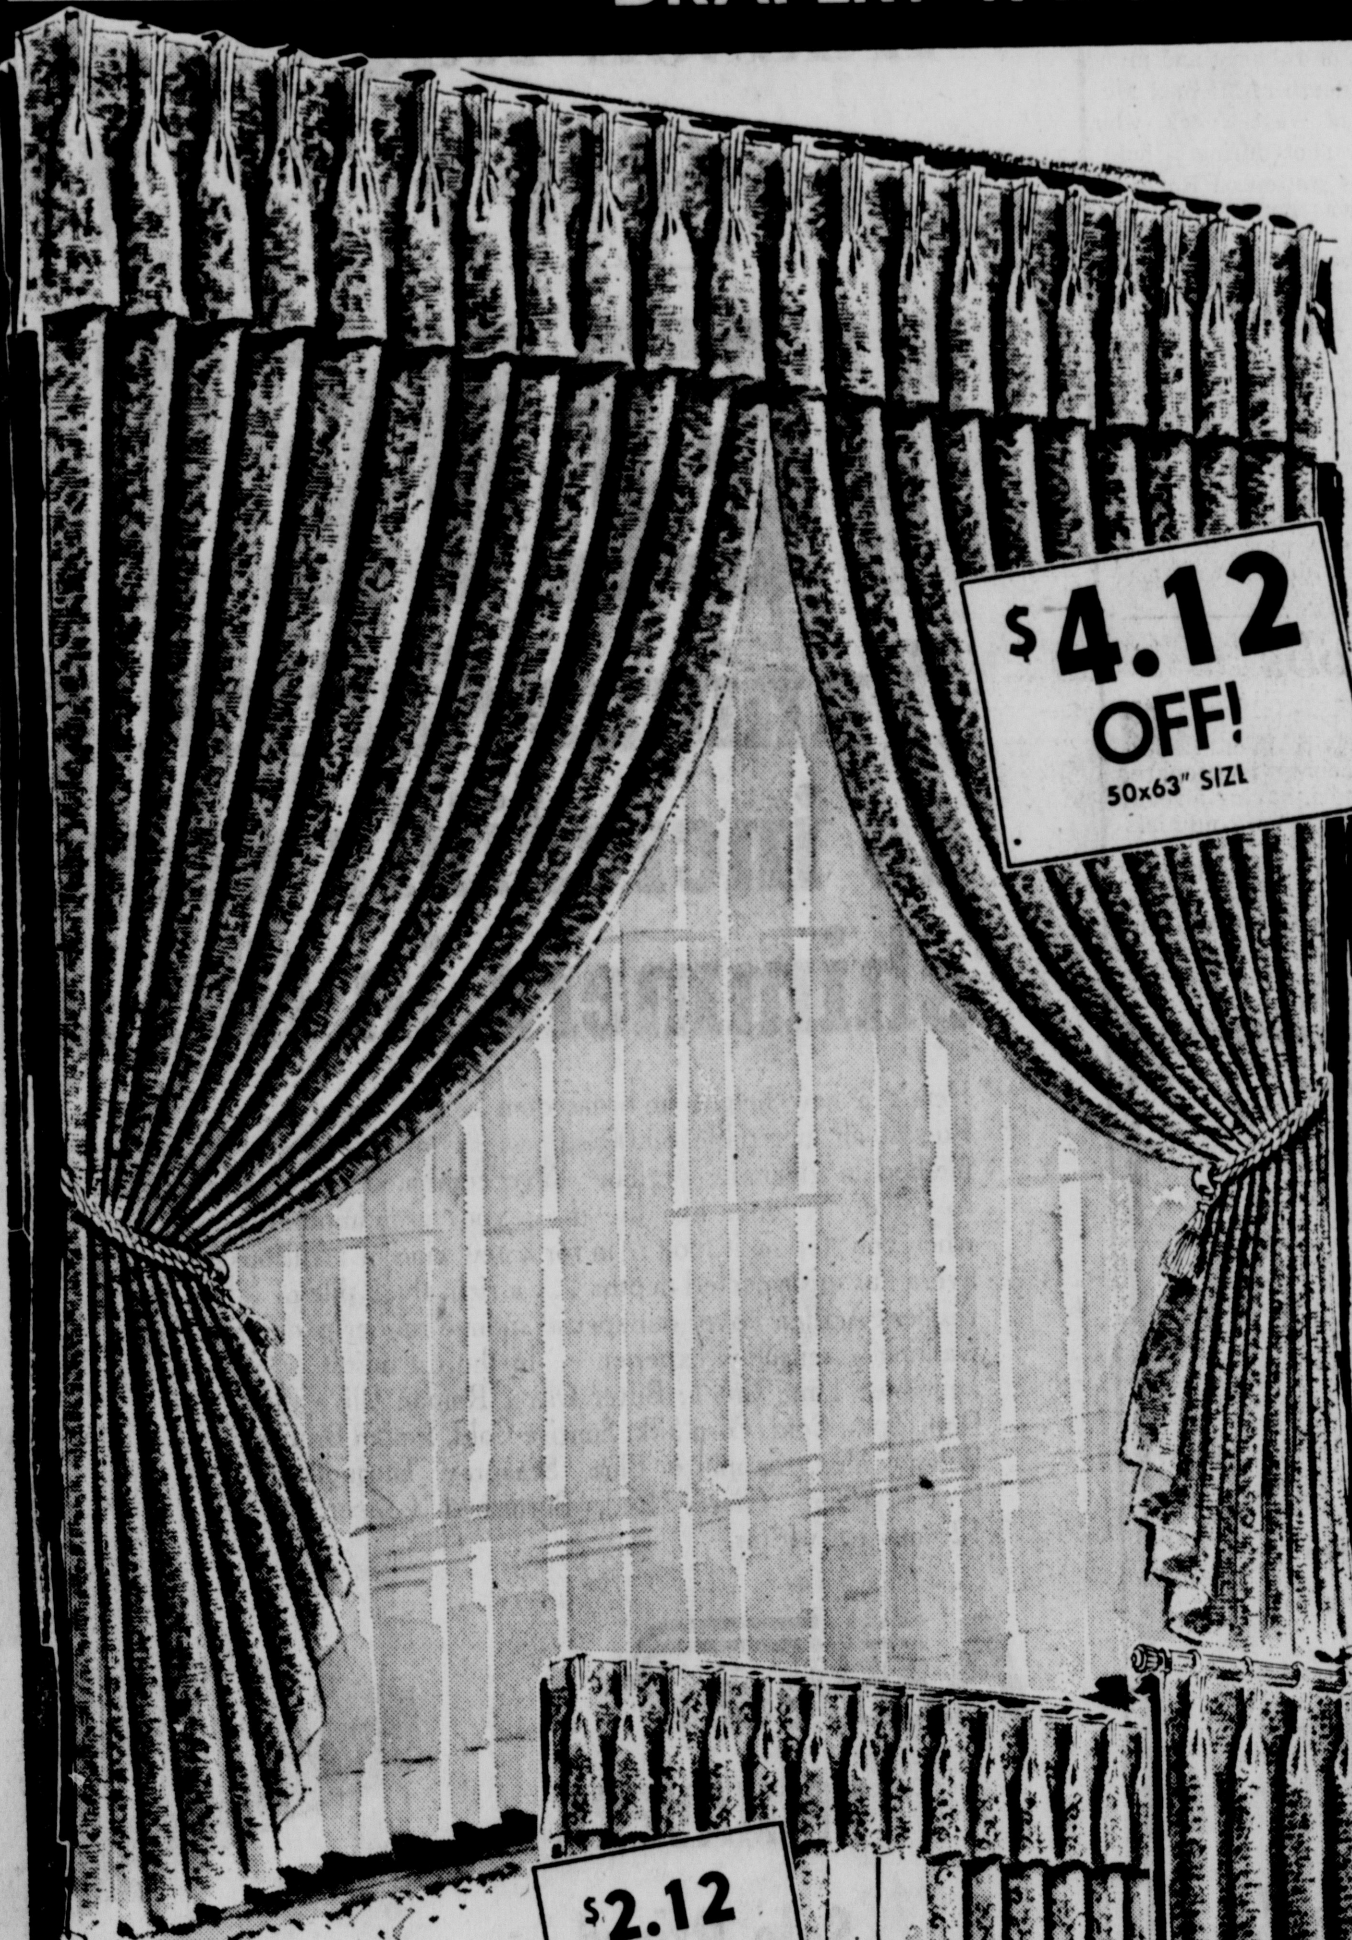

The union threatened to lock prisoners in their cells around the clock unless the guards get what they want.

Asked whether the "lock-in" remained scheduled after the meeting, the union spokesman said, "that date still holds. No changes in that at all."

Glen Street Complex — Strong Opposition

Strong opposition has developed from persons living in the area of the proposed Glen Street Apartment Complex with 164 units, awaiting the proposal of the Kingston Common Council when it meets in regular session Tuesday night.

Twenty-four of the signatures are from persons living adjacent to the proposed site of the 200-unit complex, which means the Council, if it approves the proposal, would have to have at least 10 votes in favor instead of a simple majority of seven of the 13 aldermen.

Residents are opposed to the garden apartment proposal because of what the petition terms inadequate sewage and water facilities in the area to support it in addition to increased traffic that would result from the project. Those petitions will be referred to the Laws and Rules Committee of the Common Council.

Laws and Rules Chairman Donald E. Quick has set a public hearing on the Glen Street proposal for Oct. 14 in the Council Chambers at 7:30 p.m. at city hall.

Laws and Rules will also receive a message from Mayor Francis R. Koenig listing three suggested appointees for the state-mandated assessor board of review. The mayor will make those names public on Friday Street adjacent to Rondout Gardens. It contends that the playground, while in the construction stages, was not supervised or fenced off and that the Gordon child suffered severe injuries after falling off the merry-go-round on June 13. The suit asks $500,000 in damages for her son, Anthony J. Gordon, both of 35 Gill Street.

The suit charges the city with negligence in the operation of a new playground at Murray

Mrs. Acker—3-Year Sentence

KINGSTON A 23-year-old New Jersey woman who pleaded guilty earlier this month to a charge that stemmed from investigation of the murder of a gas station attendant on the Thruway near New Paltz on Oct. 27, 1970, was sentenced Wednesday afternoon by County Judge Raymond J. Mino to a maximum of three years in prison.

Mrs. Helen Acker will be transferred from the County Jail to the State Prison for Women at Bedford in Westchester County.

The woman was originally indicted for murder in the shooting death of Gordon Scharrenberg of Park Ridge, N. J., but she was permitted to plead on charges of robbery and murder in the death of Michael McGraw, 25, of West Nyack, who was fatally shot during a hold-up at a gas station on Route 17 where he was employed by his brother.

Scharrenberg was working in a gas station in Sloatsburg the night he was reportedly robbed and forced at gunpoint to accompany Parker and Mrs. Acker in a car. The youth was driven to a spot off the superhighway near New Paltz, where he was shot as he tried to escape from Parker. Scharrenberg's body was found in a culvert the next morning by a passing truck driver who notified authorities.

Mones Bids Council Act On Jobs

KINGSTON County Legislator Melvin Mones, (R-Kingston), today indicated that the City of Kingston still qualifies and will receive funds from the new Emergency Employment Act. Legislator Mones said that he has obtained this assurance from County Legislature Chairman Peter J. Savago.

"I am disappointed that the city administration has not reacted more quickly in preparing its application and in having the Common Council approve it," Mones said.

He went on to declare that "Those funds, as will be administered under a Federal grant, through the County of Ulster, will be utilized to hire unemployed individuals who will be placed in positions generally to work in environmental activities. The county is prepared to move at once, having already completed preliminary administrative tasks."

"I urge the Common Council to review and pass this proposal at their October 5 meeting so that we may implement Kingston's part in this undertaking," Mones concluded.

Olive Bond Issue Rejected

By LYN MULVANEY SHOKAN

Town of Olive voters overwhelmingly rejected a proposed $200,000 bond issue for the building of a pool and park complex in a referendum Wednesday.

Of the approximately 1,500 eligible voters, 881 turned out at the polls to defeat the measure 688 to 193.

The proposal made by the town in conjunction with its planners, was cause for great controversy in recent weeks with a group of citizens called "Committee for a sane, sensible recreation program for our children," campaigning against the proposed project.

Plans for the recreation project had included a pool, park, playground, tennis courts, pavilion, baseball field, landscaping and ice skating pond in the Shokan area. The town presently has a swimming facility in the West Shokan area.

The estimated $200,000 cost of the project was to be matched with funds from the federal government upon application approval.

Public information meetings were held in conjunction with the proposal prior to the referendum.

Opponents of the project questioned the proposal asking if the town would have made application for funds from the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation. They wanted to know if federal funds would mean federal control and if the pool and recreation area would be used and controlled exclusively by town residents or would it be open to the public.

They questioned who would be able to use the Shokan and West Shokan recreation areas and expressed concern for the estimated annual expense for such things as maintenance, personnel and insurance.

Opponents also cautioned about heavy traffic on Route 28 which they felt would be a serious hazard to children who would be walking or bicycling to the recreation area.

They also claimed that the town board made last minute changes in funding, changes in the date of the referendum and voter eligibility. Informational meetings, they said, were held on the wrong program.

Shandaken Planners Discuss Survey

SHANDAKEN ten cents a copy according to some of the results of the poll. Copies of the results of a Frederick Muehleck, chairman at the Wednesday night meeting, public opinion survey taken in of the Shandaken Planning Board. The publication of the survey, which was underwritten by a from any member of the Shandaken Planning Board.

Muehleck said that in view of the prohibitive cost of postage, all deliveries and pickups of the survey will have to be made personally.

The questionnaire dealt with the likes and dislikes of residents, their thoughts on such things as community development, housing, commercial development, town services and related activities, utilities and recreation and land development.

The report was submitted to the Shandaken Town Board for its consideration on Sept. 18.

"We feel that this poll shows that our citizens want some positive action on the recreation idea and we, the Board, are studying the results," stated Muehleck.

In other Planning Board business, the group discussed the topic of sub-divisions and the establishment of various building codes and ordinances.

"We are going to make recommendations at the Oct. 13 Town Board meeting," said the chairman.

"We hope to get some action."

Trailer and mobile home parks were also discussed. The Board feels that the town should have some control over where these

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, SEPTEMBER 30, 1971

WASHINGTON—Ever since we reported on the drunken antics of an AID official during Vice President Agnew's recent visit to Kenya, AID has been tightening the lid on classified messages. FBI agents are grilling officials and giving lie detector tests to find out who leaked the secret report. Copy machines have been moved to secured areas where they are constantly monitored. All these precautions have been taken in the name of national security. Yet our story, which precipitated the manhunt, had nothing to do with security. We quoted from a message that Robinson McIlvane, the American Ambassador in Kenya, sent to Dr. John Hannah, the AID administrator. The message was so sensitive that it was hand-delivered to Hannah under seal. He was upset, therefore, when we printed it for 45 million Americans to read. But the subject of the message was the hijinks of Bert Tollefson, who is in charge of the AID program in Kenya. Alleged the hush-hush message: "The problem started with Bert's well-known pushiness and general lack of sensitivity and culminated in his getting sloshed at Treelops (a nightclub), making passes at the Vice President's secretary and trying to drag her down the steps to meet an elephant at ground level." Tollefson assured us by telephone from Nairobi that it was all a misunderstanding and blamed the whole episode on an unnamed Democratic holdovers. But Hannah took urgent steps to make sure we don't get any more of his secret messages. He issued terse instructions, intended for the eyes only of those who handle sensitive documents. As evidence that Hannah hasn't yet plugged the leak, here are his new instructions: "The reproduction of the State's NODIS, EXDIS, and TOP SECRET and the AID'S EYES ONLY and TOP SECRET messages requires the approval of the AID Executive secretary, and such reproduction can be accomplished only by the EX-SEC Staff."

"All reproduction and copy machines are being located in secured areas, which will be monitored. During non-working hours, all copy machines will be secured in such a way that they are inoperable."

Slow Economic Rise Reporting to Republican congressional leaders on the economic outlook the other day, Budget Director George Shultz confided between puffs on his pipe that the economy is "moving in the right direction but not fast enough."

He reminded them that two million men had been released from the armed forces and laid off from defense production. This has had "a heavy impact" upon the economy, he said, but it is "now largely behind us." He insisted that "inflation has topped out" and that the "economic structure clearly is strengthening."

Wage-price coordinator Arnold Weber, known inside the White House as the Kaptain Kangaroo of the economic freeze, couldn't say positively how effective the freeze has been.

"There'll be a lag in data," he said, "but there is some basis for modest optimism."

The GOP leaders questioned President Nixon at the secret session about his economic plans. Asked about the 10 per cent surcharge on foreign imports, he replied: "Foreign nations are curious as to how long it will last. We are not going to move too quickly." "It's important," cautioned New York's Sen. Jacob Javits, the top Republican on the Joint Congressional Economic Committee, "that we indicate our readiness to negotiate."

Colorado's Sen. Gordon Allott, the Senate Republican Conference chairman, questioned the President about tax investment credits for businessmen.

"Is the investment credit to be recommended on a temporary or permanent basis?" he asked.

"There should be an ongoing program," said Nixon. "We'll address ourselves to it in January."

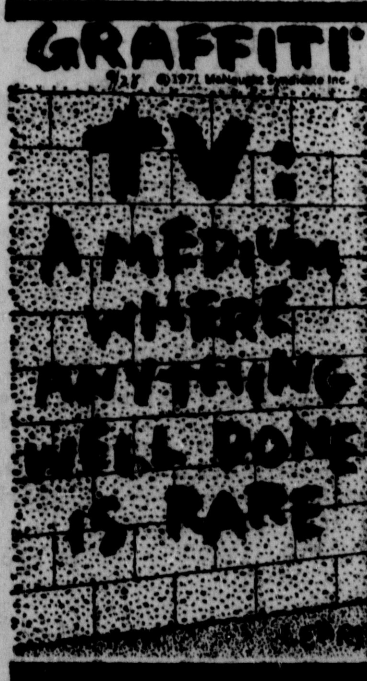

The President, sipping coffee but frowning sternly as he spoke, added: "Other countries have used the device of taxes to accelerate depreciation to permit their industries to compete better overseas. We will have to examine our whole plant and investment situation to improve its competitive position."

Footnote: The President mildly goaded Wisconsin's Rep. John Byrnes, the ranking Republican on the powerful House Ways and Means Committee, about his "disagreement" with White House tax proposals. This was a teasing reference to Byrnes' close cooperation with Chairman Wilbur Mills, D-Ark. But Byrnes predicted that the "outline" of Nixon's proposals would be left intact by the Ways and Means Committee.

Tight Squeeze A Highway Safety official has proposed approving on buses, emergency exit windows that are so small an overfed American can't squeeze through.

On August 2, the agency's Motor Vehicle section proposed a 13-by-20-inch size, far smaller than windows on modern buses. So shocked was the agency's research chief, John Edwards, that he fired off a memo pointing out that the school bus lobby recommended a minimum of 17-by-24 inches even for children.

The mini-exit, wrote Edwards, "does not appear to be based on real life conditions encountered at the time of bus crashes."

Freeman Editorials Labor's Defiance

The welkin continues to ring with denunciations by organized labor of President Nixon's "new economic policy."

"The executive order favors the rich, creates new tax bonanzas for corporations, allows interest rates to run scot free and hurts millions of American workers and small businessmen," says Longshoremen leader Harry Bridges, no stranger to conflict with the government.

"The workingman is patriotic and will accept sacrifices. But he is not dumb enough to make all the sacrifices," says Ohio AFL-CIO President, Frank King. He goes on to mutter about the "guys smoking cigars and making money by the millions" on the stock market.

The point of contention is the fact that while wages and prices have been frozen at least until Nov. 12, corporate profits and interest rates have not been. In addition, the President wants to grant business a 10 per cent tax credit to encourage expansion.

The point is valid, and the President should not really be surprised at the abuse and the threats of rebellion and defiance showered on him from the house of labor.

Yet some of the criticism seems specious, if not downright childish.

An example is United Auto Workers President Leonard Woodcock's complaint that he doesn't know any law that permits the government to say that a corporation "shall not pay money to its workers but instead put it into its own coffers."

This makes it sound as if there is a big pile of money from which both labor and management draw their share and that now management is taking both shares.

But wages are paid out of income, which is earned from the sale of products. If a lid has been put on labor's wages, so has a lid been put on what business can charge for its products.

If the auto workers, for example, must forego a scheduled pay increase, the automakers have already been forced to rescind scheduled price increases for 1972 cars. The same is true of an announced eight per cent increase in steel prices.

If repeal of the seven per cent excise tax stimulates auto sales, that will surely swell company profits. But it will also assure steady work for the men who make the cars.

An increase in car prices, however, while it would have helped finance higher labor costs, would only have stimulated the inflation the administration's controls are intended to combat and in the long run would have nullified the workingman's gain from higher pay.

It probably would have been smarter had the administration included profits and interest rates in the freeze, if only to preclude the inevitable charges of business favoritism leveled by labor.

But a man would have to be guided by divine wisdom to be able to formulate a plan that was absolutely fair to everyone, that did not offend all of the people some of the time and some of the people all of the time.

Work and Welfare

No sensible person believes that the welfare problem can be solved simply by "putting the parasites to work." Millions receiving public assistance are unemployable. They have never been employable and, for any number of reasons, probably never will be employable.

There are, however, many thousands on the welfare rolls who are both able and willing to work, if only someone will give them the chance.

New York City, which stands as the prime example of welfarism gone wild, also offers an encouraging example of how this neglected store of human energy can be tapped.

By virtue of a new state law which requires able-bodied relief recipients to work out the amount of their grants if the state employment service cannot find private jobs for them, an estimated army of 30,000 to 50,000 persons has been made available to the city. So far, various agencies have put in bids for 13,000 of them.

The first contingents have been put to work in playgrounds and parks with rakes and brooms to pick up trash and litter. The work is menial, but not demeaning. It is useful work. Most important, the workers seem to like it and to appreciate the opportunity to be doing something to earn their support.

Agency heads are also pleased with the program. "I'll take all the welfare people we can get," says the director of the city's parks, recreation and cultural affairs administration.

It may be that in handing relief checks to people without asking something from them in return, we have really been telling them how unimportant, useless and unwanted they are.

It's time that this changed.

Working on State Transport Bond

By HOWARD CLARK ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—There's a familiar look about the campaign to sell the $2.5-billion transportation bond issue to the voters.

It's almost like a Rockefeller political campaign in style, and many of the workers are the same.

Take Joseph Boyd, for example. He has handled numerous political assignments for Gov. Rockefeller and managed the upstate portion of Rockefeller's 1970 gubernatorial campaign.

Boyd took a leave of absence from his $33,560-a-year state job as appointments secretary to Rockefeller to work in the committee called "Yes for Transportation in New York State."

From headquarters on the 27th floor of the American

Metal Climax building on the Avenue of the Americas in Manhattan, this committee is seeking contributions and is the umbrella group for other committees, a revered political practice. How much will the committee spend? "It depends on how much we get," replied Boyd in a slight variation of the usual reply to questions about campaign costs.

The group is just drawing up a budget so he said he could not confirm reports that almost $1 million would be spent. He said the contributions were coming from many persons and corporations, including paving companies and builders.

Many re-election supporters of Rockefeller show up on the promotion committees. Many workers in the vast public-relations militia of state government—as they did in the 1970 campaign—also are participating.

The State Transportation Department published recently a four-color leaflet entitled: "Are We Paving The Country?" The answer of the department, which supervises road-building in the state, was NO.

There have been polls. One early poll showed the bond issue passing by a large margin. Several regional polls have been taken recently, Boyd says, but the results are in the process of tabulation.

The really unusual aspect of the campaign is the isolated, spot appearances of Rockefeller—in contrast to his energetic travels of two years ago. This was not planned—it was forced by reverberations from the violence at Attica Prison and many threats on his life.

Rockefeller hopes for a lessening of attention by mid-October so he can campaign in his usual style—a style very familiar and very successful with voters.

School Busing

Editor, The Freeman:
Does it threaten the education and future of the nation's children leaving them in the hands of the courts in terms of race and color?

Should a public school pupil because of his race or color be assigned to attend a particular school?

What about freedom of choice in the matter of enjoying the fruits of an education without the mark of racial difference?

Do you feel the Supreme Court is discriminating itself on the busing issue when it has passed laws against discrimination in other categories?

Is it your opinion that these are dangerous courses to pursue because it causes needless unrest and interferences in the beginning of a school term?

What race or races do you think it serves when it's singled out on the basis of color? (racial balance)

Do you think equality should be a moral issue to a parent's freedom of choice instead of a court's decision? (forced busing)

Should we allow race alone to act as a guide line as to how, when and under what circumstances your children should be educated?

A poll shows that 86 per cent agree with answering yes to all the above questions.

President Nixon feels it should be kept to a minimum. Governor Wallace of Alabama rejects the whole idea.

Senator Brock of Tennessee is introducing a Constitutional amendment to end this. What is your stand on the matter?

Sincerely yours,

Prison Reform

Editor, The Freeman:
The recent publicity regarding events in Attica, New York, have stirred up feelings among many people about the prison system in our state and in our country. No matter what their point of view regarding the reasons for these tragic events, no matter what they thought of Governor Rockefeller's action, nearly every official who spoke out on the subject agreed that we must investigate our prisons, and we must make some reforms.

A large section of the general public whose circumstances have never brought them in touch with the reality of prison life, think only of prisons as places where hardened criminals are confined and kept out of circulation for the protection of those of use who remain outside.

The chronological reporting of the events at Attica gave considerable publicity to the fact that we were given the wrong information at first as to how the prisoners and hostages died. A few weeks ago, another deception was uncovered but not given so much publicity. So the majority of the American people still believe that George Jackson was killed at San Quentin.

in an attempt to escape, instead of its being, as further investigation indicated, a deliberate frame-up and murder.

I have recently been reading a paper back book, Soledad Brother, The Prison Letters to George Jackson. Jackson was jailed at the age of 18 for being involved in a theft of $77. He was kept in jail for eleven years by having his time extended and paroles continually denied because, according to his reports, he happened to be around during disturbances, in one of which a guard was killed, and because he was known to be a leader of the Black liberation movement.

I recommend this book as must reading for anyone interested in a prisoner's point of view and some insight into the reasons why our prisons have in their populations such a high percentage of Blacks and Puerto Ricans and why so many of them have met death in various incidents.

Yours truly,
(Mrs.) ERDINE ANTONSEN

Olive Ambulance

Editor, The Freeman:
As a fairly new resident of the Town of Olive, I was pleased to receive some campaign literature from James H. Glemming, who's running for Town Supervisor in the November 2nd election.

I am an independent voter who judges the candidates by their ideas and their deeds. I must applaud Mr. Glemming's stand in favor of a town ambulance service. I am amazed that the citizenry of this town has not demanded such a service in the past. In case of accident or sickness it would take at least an hour in good weather for one of our residents to be moved by ambulance to one of the Kingston hospitals. This time could be cut in half if we had a rescue squad in the town.

As a taxpayer, I would be happy to pay for the services of such a squad, and I hope that my fellow citizens would join me in supporting such a move. I hope that Mr. Glemming can carry out his pledge if he is elected.

I hope, too, that the opposition will also take a stand on this vital issue. Perhaps they already have, but I'm unaware of it. It seems Mr. Glemming has a more efficient campaign since he is the only candidate I have heard from. I await the others.

Sincerely yours,

Last year, in keeping with the local Republican Party tradition, the Republican Town Board of Woodstock wasted $20,000 of this town's money!

It was called Hutchin Hill Road. Until last winter it was just a nice little dirt road in Shady that nobody ever used mainly because nobody lived on it. And then somebody decided it should be improved. By the town. At a cost in the neighborhood of $20,000; the money coming from the town's treasury, administered by the Town Board. At the time all this was going on several people questioned the soundness of improving a road nobody lived on. But they didn't get any answers. In fact the Town Board had a "special" closed meeting where it was decided that the best thing to do about Hutchin Hill Road was hush it up.

Well, we don't think it should be hushed up. One, because wasting roughly 8% of this town's budget should be explained. Especially when you consider what the $20,000 could have been used for. For example, fixing up roads that people do live on and that need fixing. Like Purdy Hollow Road. Or Silver Hollow Road. Or Cross Patch Road, Mink Hollow Road and Sherman Road.

And two because unfortunately Hutchin Hill Road isn't an isolated incident.

There were other little examples of the Board being remiss in the area of money management. For instance, the fact that they didn't see fit to make sure all legal fees the town was due were collected. Which would have meant something like an additional $3,000 in our treasury.

And this attitude the Republicans seem to have about handling this town's money isn't anything new.

In point of fact, every Republican administration in memory seems to have a little Hutchin Hill Road or two rattling around in their closet.

In 1967 there was Rick's Road if you remember. Twenty-five thousand dollars or so out the window. Then there was the time a Republican Town Board bought the Cashdollar land for a dump at a cost to the town of $29,000, when the assessed value of that land was $400. Then there was the Town Board that spent $75,000 solving a water problem caused by a drought which could have been prevented at a significantly lower cost. And then there was the Hansen property issue where the Town Board paid $26,000 for property it could have bought for less than half that price a few years prior.

Had enough? What it all boils down to is this town doesn't need politicians elected who have come to assume they're automatically going to be elected no matter what their party has or hasn't done for this town. This town, as a matter of fact, doesn't need politicians at all. It needs money management. It needs people who can sit down and allocate money to projects that make sense and that reflect the Town's needs. People who haven't grown careless, because they've come to take the privilege of holding office for granted.

This year DON'T Vote for the Politicians—

Vote for sensible money management — Vote DEMOCRATIC.

Bridge Jumper Rescued by Cop on Phone

NEW YORK (UPI) — A Johnson said he kept the man numbers off the sides of the cars.

"Meanwhile, I kept in contact with the radio, and I told him 'when you see a sector car go by, tell me.' He did and we were able to pin down where the box was. They (squad car police men) were able to nail him on the bridge."

The man was taken by police to a hospital for observation.

City Gambling Arrest

KINGSTON — A third man was arrested Wednesday by detectives as the result of continued investigation of gambling operations within the city.

Police arrested Thomas A. Byrnes, 61, of 29 Mary's Avenue on charges of promoting gambling second degree and possessing gambling records second degree.

Arrested on Monday were Maceo Nash, 73, of 7 West Strand, and Theodore Robert Smith, 64, of 64 Van Buren Street, both of Kingston. They also were booked on charges of promoting gambling second degree and possessing gambling records second degree.

The charges against the three men involved policy and book numbers.

Smith and Nash both pleaded guilty to the charges today in City Court as second offenders. Special City Court Judge George A. Beck fined the pair $200 each, and then said that the fine will be doubled each succeeding time if either man is convicted again of similar crimes.

Byrnes will answer the charges against him in City Court.

Cabbie's Body Found In Putnam County

COLD SPRING, N.Y. (UPI) — The body of an elderly taxi driver who was kidnapped Sunday in Peekskill was discovered Wednesday by highway workers in the nearby town of Phillips, Putnam County.

The victim's cab was found Monday in Albany, where, police said, an alleged would-be robber had planned to use it as a getaway car.

The body of Alexander Sabato, 74, of Peekskill, was found on a dirt road off East Mountain Road in a remote area of Putnam County near the Dutchess County line. His head had been caved in by a blunt instrument, police said.

Sabato, the owner of the Paramount Taxi Co., was last seen Sunday outside the Peekskill railroad station. His station wagon cab was found in Albany.

Freed After $240,000 Paid

MEXICO CITY (UPI) — Mexico's director of airports, Julio Hirschfeld Almada, was freed unharmed Wednesday night by kidnappers who had held him captive in a dark room for more than two days awaiting payment of $240,000 ransom.

"I'm convinced they would have killed me if the ransom had not been met," the 54-year-old millionaire industrialist told newsmen.

He had arrived at his mansion by taxi several hours earlier, saying he had been treated well by his four abductors, who described themselves as revolutionaries.

During the news conference, Almada said he was blindfolded after his abduction from his car Monday and had no idea where he was taken. He said he was placed in a small room with newspapers over the windows and blindfolded again whenever it was necessary to move him through other rooms of the building.

His only reading material was a biography of Ernesto Che Guevara, the Cuban revolutionary, and other "left-wing literature," he said.

Police ordered not to interfere while Almada's family dealt with the kidnappers, moved into action today, combing the nation for the three men and one woman who abducted the official. The suspects were armed with submachine guns.

When Hirschfeld got out of the cab, he was encircled by 75 newsmen, and television lights were turned on.

"I am all right, but please get those lights away," he said. "I was held in a dark room for two days and can barely see."

Almada's son, Julio Jr., paid the ransom Tuesday afternoon according to instructions given by the terrorists. The money was in old bills and wrapped in a package that weighed 6.5 pounds, family spokesmen said.

NRLB Upholds Suit in Court

EAST FISHKILL — A suit filed by Blount Brothers Corporation of Montgomery, Ala., the general contractor on two large construction jobs at the East Fishkill and Poughkeepsie plants of International Business Machine, charging unfair labor practices against Teamsters Local 445, was upheld recently by the National Labor Relations Board.

There were two proceedings in the Federal District Court for the Southern District of New York at Foley Square in New York City, in which injunctions were granted against Teamsters Local 445.

After extended hearings before the NLRB in Washington, D.C., a decision was handed down supporting the general contractor's allegations on each count.

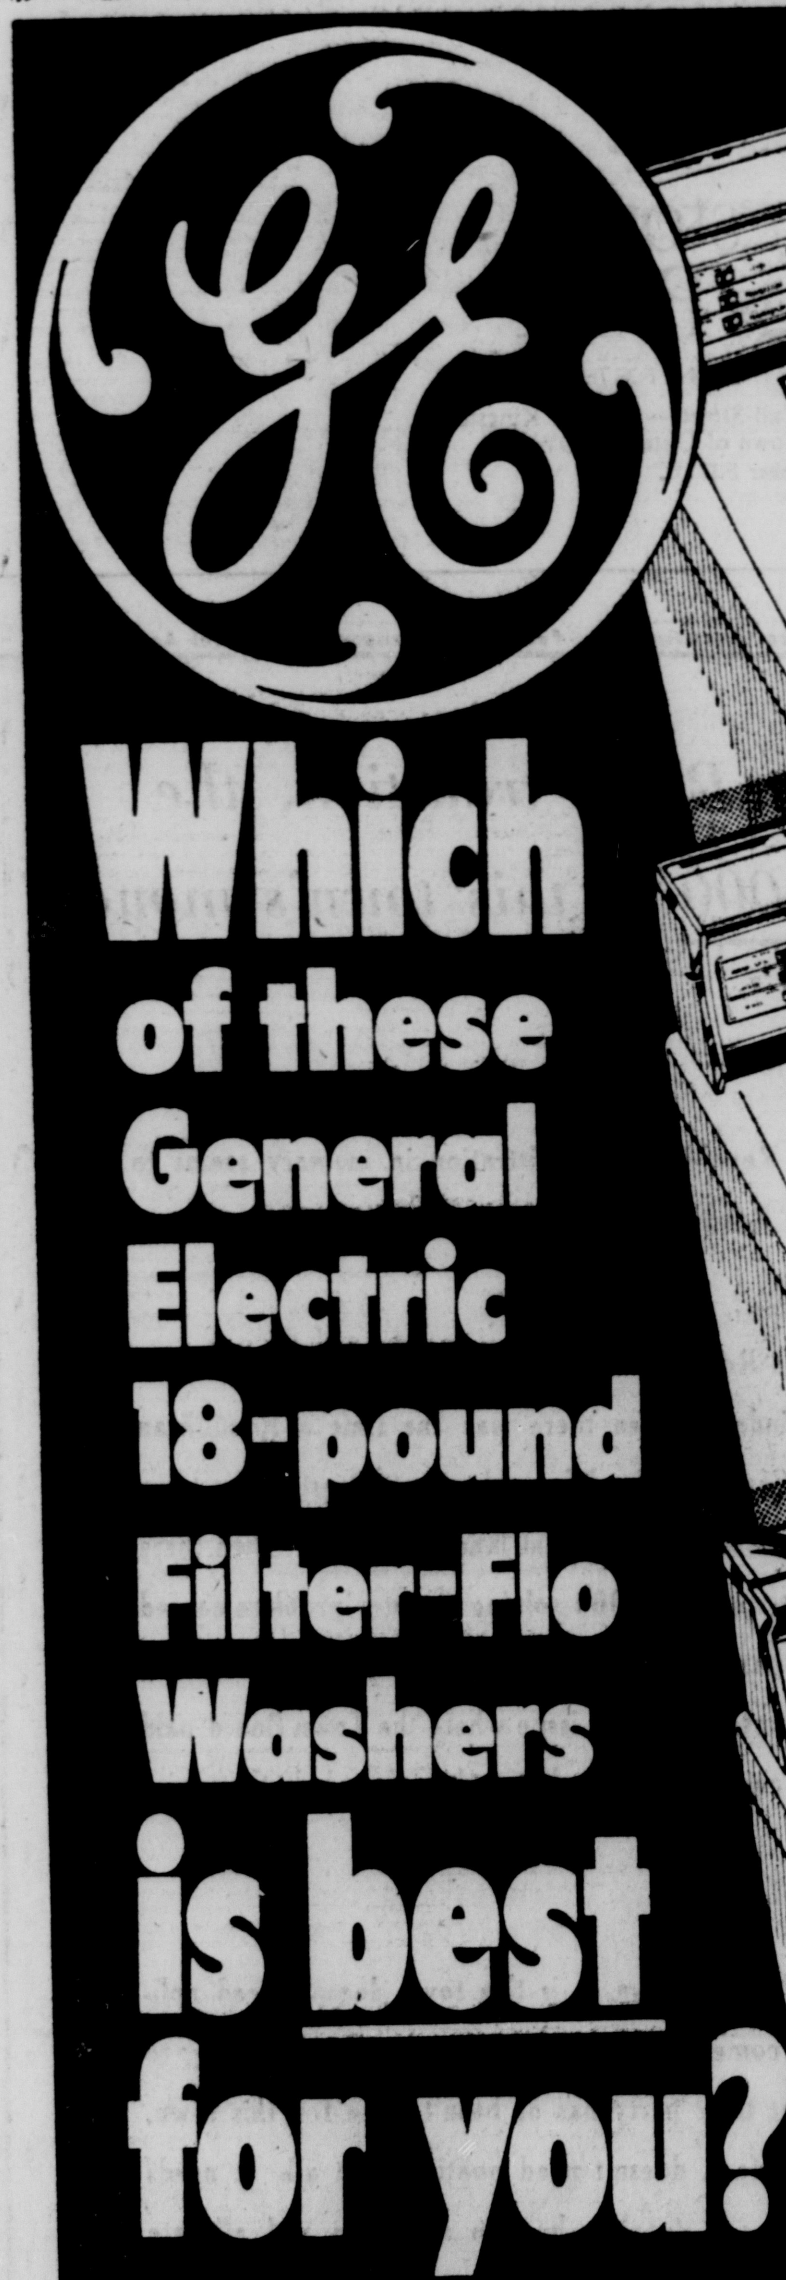

The dispute centered around the use, by Blount Brothers, of some employees not represented by certain labor organizations.

James J. Ryan of Latham represented Blount Brothers at every stage of the proceedings.

Arrested were the Rev. Louis A. Holliday, 43, pastor of the Soundview Avenue Baptist Church in the Bronx, and Sara Cole, 41, the secretary of the church. The two were counselors at the Manida Juvenile Center for Girls.

Police said the prostitution charges did not stem from their connection with the girls' home.

RV Journalism Class Tours The Daily Freeman

KYSERIKE The class also met some of the members of the Journalism editors, columnists and writers there at the actual time the media operate. Both the students and their teacher, Mrs. Knudsen, greatly appreciated staff gave them so generously.

Class of Rondout Valley High School, a senior English elective course taught by Mrs. Eleanor Knudsen, visited The Daily Freeman recently and were given a tour of the plant by Managing Editor Peter Barrechia discussed layouts and type machines. In the printing room, they saw the huge presses amount of work and effort that goes into putting out a modern newspaper. In the future, the sources, staff coverage, and the printing of the day's edition. Unfortunately, they could not be there at the actual time the media operate.

The class also visited the "morgue" where microfilm editions of past editions and files of old articles and photographs are kept for research and reference purposes. Some of these date back to 1820.

Their tour gave the students a much better idea of the amount of work and effort that goes into putting out a modern newspaper. In the future, the sources, staff coverage, and the printing of the day's edition. Unfortunately, they could not be there at the actual time the media operate.

Plan Amtrak Improvement

WASHINGTON (AP) — Amtrak, the National Railroad Passenger Corp., said this week it plans a major improvement in rail service this fall.

Harold L. Graham, vice president for marketing, said the new timetables to be offered by mid-November probably will include the greatest number of railroad schedule changes in the last 10 years.

Amtrak said it plans to:

- Increase the current train schedule of three round trips a day between Washington and Boston to seven a day. By mid-December, overnight sleeping car service between Boston, New York and Washington also may be restored.
- Reinstate the winter time Florida special between New York and Miami with nonstop service between Richmond, Va., and Florida to cut the trip time from 24½ hours to less than 23 hours.
- Provide direct service for the first time between Milwaukee and St. Louis, Mo.
- Revise transcontinental schedules to provide better connecting service in Chicago.
- Reschedule the one remaining Chicago-Florida passenger train, the Southwind, to leave Chicago in the evening instead of the morning.
- Offer through service, without a change in trains, between Boston and Miami, Boston and New Orleans, and Boston and Chicago.

Amtrak also said it is negotiating with New York state officials for possible restoration of service between New York and Montreal within two or three months.

Graham said Amtrak hopes to start service between Salt Lake City and Los Angeles by Jan. 15. If traffic response is sufficient, he said, it may be able to restore coast-to-coast sleeping car service between New York and either Los Angeles or San Francisco.

Fish Scores Oil Order

WASHINGTON product, there would not be enough low sulfur No. 6 oil to meet anti-pollution requirements, and perhaps most serious of all, there would be a severe shortage, causing factories to close, apartments and hospitals to grow cold, and electric utility generators to shut down," the letter states.

The oil, which has been imported without restriction, is used for heating of hospitals, schools, and public buildings, and for heavy industrial plants.

In the letter signed by Congressmen from New England and New York, a call is made for extensive public hearings prior to any proposed import quota on the important fuel.

According to Congressman Fish, if the new order is put into effect on April, 1972, as presently planned, an open-ended system under which importers receive all the allocations needed to meet demand, would be replaced by a system under which a rigid maximum level is set at the beginning of an allocation period, and under which certain importers could be denied sufficient allocations to meet customer demands.

"If import controls were imposed on No. 6 oil into the East Coast to any degree, there would be a further sharp increase in the price of this

Zena Homeowners Hear of Progress

WEST HURLEY The third annual meeting and dinner-dance of the Zena Area Homeowners Civic Association was held Sept. 24 at Kurta's restaurant, Route 28. The meeting was attended by over 125 people, including both members of ZAHCA and members of the recently announced Zena Recreation Park.

The meeting was called to order by Will Brey, ZAHCA president, with introductions of the standing committee chairmen who reported on the activities of their committees during the past year. Jack Contino, secretary, read the minutes of last year's meeting, and Theodore Lippincott, treasurer, gave the treasurer's report.

Highlights of the meeting were David McGehe's report on the tax committee's progress toward more equitable equalization, Robert Hanscom on the membership drive, Lippincott on town meeting coverage, Walter Laskowski on the new Zena school activities, and Pete DuFresne with the recreation committee's progress on the Rec Park and the ski and gym programs.

Following the standing committee reports, the special committee chairmen, Henry Moreland, Norman Fowler, Brey, and Terry Fowler reported on the services provided by their respective committees, fertilizer, Whitne Drive road acceptance, Zena School Road safety, and The Garden Club.

In his report on taxes, McGehe emphasized the campaign to have the State Board of Equalization include trailers in their sample properties. He pointed out that John Glancy will be the host in the Town of Ulster over 15 per cent of the population lives in trailers. The result was that this year six trailer parks were included in the state board sample which should result in a better equalization ratio for Woodstock residents.

Hanscom followed with a status report on ZAHCA membership stating that the 1971 drive resulted in the establishment of a new area on Zena Road and a grand total of 192 member families.

Lippincott reviewed the activities of the town committee in keeping abreast of town affairs. He pointed out that his committee functions as a two-way street, keeping ZAHCA members informed of important developments such as newly proposed ordinances, budgets, and the Town sewage disposal plans, while also expressing to the Town ZAHCA feelings on major issues.

The school committee, headed by Walter Laskowski, reported on the formation last year of the Parent-Teacher organization and the monitoring of the Kingston Consolidated School Board meetings.

Pete DuFresne summarized the activities of the Recreation Committee. To begin with he reviewed the accomplishments of the ski and gym programs in which more than 60 area residents benefited from low cost memberships at Catskill Ski Area and the gymnasium facilities of the new Zena School. He also reviewed the status of the Zena Recreation Park reporting that acceptable land had finally been acquired on Zena-Highwoods Road and that preliminary construction on the park had been already started and major items such as land clearing for tennis courts and pool shell installation would start by Oct. 15.

Special Committee reports followed with Moreland reporting that over 65 families had participated in the spring fertilizer program purchasing 425 items at a cost of $1,280. The savings to the membership exceeded $307. Fowler then reviewed the status of Whitney Drive stating that Town acceptance was close, the only remaining problem being management for drainage. Fowler covered the activities of the ZAHCA Garden Club stating that the club has 36 members. Will Brey completed the special committee reports with a statement on the Zena School Road Safety Program. "As of yesterday the Regional Department of Transportation in Poughkeepsie has approved a speed zone of 35 MPH at the Zena School and three flashing beacons. All that is required now is state approval," he said. The meeting ended with the

This Candidate Comes Up With New Approach

WAWARSING
Put up, put down or put on, Robert Frucht, Conservative candidate for town justice in the Town of Wawarsing, has a unique approach when it comes to campaigning.
In a press release issued today he said he "would like to thank those persons who tore down my posters along our town roadways. Until I noticed that the posters had been removed, I really hadn't realized how much they detracted from our town's beautiful landscape."
"Since one of my party's major concern is ecology and since I myself am very concerned with the attractiveness of our area, I pledge that I will only place my posters in reputable business establishments and will refrain from cluttering up our town's landscape," Frucht added.

Arrest Youth On Car Charge

Rochester GOP Plank

ROCHESTER Republican candidates of the Town of Rochester have announced their platform for the 1971 campaign, pledging to continue to strive for orderly growth and improvement of the town's environmental conditions. Specifically, they will devote themselves to the following:

- Improving the present Ordinance by working with the Zoning Study Committee to be appointed at the next Town Board meeting and all interested citizens.
- Working with and helping the very active Drug Abuse committee to help people who are in trouble with drugs and to develop an educational and preventive program.
- Working with and helping the very active Youth Committee to provide a desirable youth program.
- Making a major effort to improve the many inequities in tax assessments, with the help of the newly adopted state assessment program. This is a statewide problem.
- Continuing a sound and practical road program within the Town's financial means with the help of the newly adopted

More Instructors Needed For Snowmobile Courses

KINGSTON The snowmobile season will soon be here and New York State's Snowmobile law requires youngsters between 10 and 16 years to acquire a safety certificate before they may operate snowmobiles alone. The New York State Parks and Recreation and the Ulster County 4-H Division of Cooperative Extension are sponsoring safety courses for youthful operators in Ulster County communities. These four one-hour session courses are taught by volunteer instructors who are trained by Parks and Recreation. The Ulster County 4-H Division, Kingston, the coordinating office for safety courses, says that additional adult instructors are needed to teach Ulster County youth snowmobile safety. A special training course for potential instructors will be offered by Parks and Recreation: Wednesday, October 6, 7:30-9:30 p.m., New York State Department of Environmental Conservation Headquarters, South Putt Corners Road, New Paltz. There are no course fees and all instructional and teaching materials are provided at no cost by Parks and Recreation. Interested adults may call Paul Strombeck, Snowmobile Safety Coordinator, Ulster County 4-H Division, Kingston.

The Other Day

We heard that in an article, R. R. Pharr said, "The human mind is the richest unexplored area in the world. The mind, like land, does not care what we plant. Good or bad, it returns what's planted." And in Good Business, C. E. Bernard said, "Although it was especially clear to pioneers that people get along best when they help one another, it is just as true today. It will be true 10,000 years from now because it is a basic principle." A basic principle of ours is always to help you with top value and satisfaction.

Norwich Military College Plans Coed School Merger

NORTHFIELD, Vt. (AP) — The oldest private military college in the country, Norwich University, has announced plans which will eventually lead to a merger with a coed college.

A spokesman says the school has entered on a program of coordinated education with Vermont College in Montpelier. Up until 1968, Vermont College was a two-year women's school.

"The thought of a merger with a girl's school is earth shaking," the spokesman said.

Vermont College will continue primarily as a women's residential college. Students, however, will be able to enroll for the first time as candidates for baccalaureate degrees for four-year programs at Norwich.

In return, Norwich cadets will be able to continue to enroll at Vermont College, a practice in effect since 1968.

The presidents of the two schools, Barksdale Hamlett of Norwich and William Irvine of Vermont College, agreed that the coordination will "greatly increase the diversity of the program offered in the two schools."

If the plans develop, the spokesman said, Vermont College will eventually become a division of Norwich University.

Point Visit This Weekend By Army Boss

WEST POINT, N.Y. (UPI) — Army Secretary Robert F. Froehke will be in West Point Friday and Saturday on his first visit to the U.S. Military Academy since he became a cabinet member in July.

Froehke will confer with Maj. Gen. William A. Knowlton, superintendent of the academy, other members of the staff and cadets.

On Friday afternoon, the secretary will address West Point seniors at a national security seminar. He will return to Washington Saturday after watching the Army - Missouri football game.

City Blaze Is Extinguished

KINGSTON — Firemen were dispatched to 714-718 Broadway at 10:24 p.m. Wednesday after a telephone operator reported fire at Charlie's Rocket Car Wash.

On arrival firefighters in charge of Deputy Chief Hugh Greer found the fire was in the office of the Hudson Valley Drywall Inc. at 714 Broadway. Officials said. The fire, which started in a radio unit was partially extinguished before arrival of firemen, who completed extinguishment of the blaze.

The radio was removed and electricity shut off in the radio unit. Firemen reported back in service at 11:04 p.m.

Finish Repairs On Store Alarm

KINGSTON — A spokesman for the Kingston Music Center today corrected earlier reports by the Ulster County Sheriff's Department concerning a burglary that occurred there late Monday or early Tuesday.

It was noted that entry into the store was made through a rear garage door, and that the burglar alarm had been disconnected that afternoon by workmen while it underwent repairs. The alarm has now been repaired and is now functioning properly, according to the spokesman.

Conduct Charge Against Pair

KINGSTON — Two men were arrested at 10:15 p.m. Wednesday by police who booked them on charges of disorderly conduct.

William E. Loerzel, 46, of 93 Wrentham Street, and George S. Bouck, 44, of 48 Howland Avenue, this city, were accused of engaging in a fist fight in front of 26 Cedar Street, police said. The case was scheduled for City Court.

Police also reported Andrew LoCicero, 34, of 121 Linderman Avenue on a charge of third degree assault. The complaint was made by Shiela LoCicero early today.

State Orders Cutback In Medicaid Payments

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — State medical bills. The cut off line had been $5,000 for a four-member family.

Also under the new rules, any family not receiving welfare payments will have to cover the cost of dental and optical care, whereas in the past all Medicaid patients received such payments from the state. Legislators had said at the time the cutbacks were passed that they expected the new rules would result in savings of $48 million each for state and local governments this year, was put to effect, because of Those expectations were down the delay.

Man Released, Awaits Hearing

ELLENVILLE Warren Davis of 21 North Main Street this village was arrested Wednesday night by State Trooper J. J. Schetzel on a charge of operating a motor vehicle while his ability was impaired by drugs.

Justice Maurice Rosenstock, who released the man pending a hearing.

Paltz Constable Denies Registration Harassment

By WADE BURKHART

NEW PALTZ — A young New Paltz resident has claimed he was "harassed" after registering to vote last Saturday. The New Paltz Town Constable accused of harassment has denied it.

Michael Weisberg has written a letter to the New Paltz Town Board and Town Supervisor, Anthony J. Moriello, demanding the discipline of and an apology from Constable Efrain Melendez for a "direct violation of the 1964 Voting Rights Act concerning harassment of potential voters."

Melendez told The Freeman he was merely investigating a possible violation of the election law.

Weisberg's letter says he arrived at the Town Hall at 7 p.m. and sat down to begin the registration process. Weisberg says he presented the necessary documentation, and as he was registering, Melendez came into the room and stood behind him, observing the process.

Weisberg says he then left the Town Hall. When he was called to Weisberg by an outside he was stopped by Constable Melendez at the registration who stables Melendez and Dennis told Melendez that Weisberg Zappone. Melendez demanded that Weisberg had tried to register that morning, but had lacked the proper identification. Melendez said the official also told him Weisberg gave a different address when registering in the evening than he had in the morning.

As he scrutinized every possible identification card and personal paper, he further intimidated Weisberg by demanding to know where he lived, who his employer was, and when he worked. Weisberg identified himself as the bouncer in the Home, Weisberg noted he did this Melendez said neither he nor after viewing the whole registration process in the Town stables had seen Weisberg working there.

Weisberg was accompanied throughout the incident by a Bruce Kaufman, a co-worker at the Homestead (a local bar), residence when registering for an election.

Kaufman corroborated Weisberg's story. Democratic cansonable grounds to examine Weisberg's identification before Town Councilman Ralph Kulseng, who owns the Homestead, also confirmed the have violated the election law, according to the constable.

Melendez maintained such an action was authorized by the law. However, Melendez told The Freeman he left out some identification to be in order, so he returned it to him and let Melendez said his attention go.

INNOVATIVE BARD DORMS—Seven new "Ravine Houses," modular dormitories, are being built set into the edge of a ravine on pilings. They are expected to be ready for student usage in October. The design, original with Bard, will include such features as a wooden ramp leading to the doorway; an enclosed porch sitting up over the closely wooded ravine; and single rooms for 84 students. They will be named in honor of former distinguished faculty members and will incorporate many suggestions from those familiar with the problems of ordinary dormitory life. (Freeman photo by Kruh).

Police Force Needed for First Class Village

NEW PALTZ, according to a communication partment, Town Supervisor An- to have constables, decided to establish one "in response to the tremendous number of calls received at the Emergency Communications Center in the past two years asking for police or emergency assistance, and in response to requests of residents established such a department now to of robbery and burglary that of the community."

There has been questioning in the Town of New Paltz, particularly among Democrats, of the process by which the town sets up constabulary and by which it will become a police force when the town assumes first class status this Jan. 1. The Democrats say there is nothing in town law which forces a town to have a police force when it becomes first class. They are correct. Nothing in town law forces a first class town to have a police force, it could either have a police force, or virtually no local law enforcement at all, according to town law.

A first class town is authorized to have a police force. Town law, section 20, paragraph 1a, says a town board of a town of the first class may appoint "as many town police men and such other employees as the town board may determine necessary for the proper conduct of the affairs of the town."

Just as this section of town law authorizes a town of the first class to have policemen, summer instead of a police de-received from the State Office Attorney Wendell Harp, it does do it. He said the town was full-time police department for the already operating under a constabulary system, and the status, said Moriello. Questioned as to whether the police department was needed of the town for police protection against the high incidence of robbery and burglary that of the community."

The State Office for Local Government said there is "no on hand said "constable." So the police department was needed of the town for police protection against the high incidence of robbery and burglary that of the community."

In the same section, however, town law does authorize the town of the first class to appoint "not more than four civil officers who shall possess all the powers and duties of constables in civil actions and proceedings only." The "civil officers" may not be paid by the town, but can collect "statutory fees" as provided by law.

According to Harp, the "civil officers" are merely process servers. He said they would not be peace officers of any sort. He also pointed out that nearly any private citizen could be a process server without receiving any appointment from the town board.

As to why the town established a full-time constabulary this summer instead of a police de-

Maternity Care System Planned for Ulster County

FAMILY CENTERED PROGRAM — Guest speakers were feted at a banquet program of the Family Centered Maternity Association of Ulster County recently. Participating were (L-R) Mrs. Pan Usticke, FCMA program chairman; Dr. August Schwenk, chief of obstetrics and gynecology at St.

Members of the Family Centered Maternity Association of Ulster County and the local medical community gathered at a dinner Friday night at the Immanuel Lutheran Church to honor guests from Schenectady. The guests were the featured speakers at a program on family centered maternity care which attracted an audience of more than 100 interested persons.

Gordon Usticke, president of Family Centered Maternity Association, after introducing local medical people and extending a special welcome to Joseph Healy, MD, an obstetrician and gynecologist new to Kingston, gave a short introduction on family centered maternity care and then presented the speakers, each of whom spoke on family centered maternity from his point of view.

Jerome Stewart, executive director of St. Clare's Hospital, Schenectady, spoke as a hospital administrator and told how family centered maternity care became a reality in his hospital.

Mrs. Les Riemenschneider, RN, related family centered maternity care from the nurses' point of view, and described the situation at Ellis Hospital in Schenectady where she is Head Delivery Room Nurse. She said the nursing staff was very pleased with family centered maternity care and found it very rewarding in terms of the atmosphere on the maternity floor. August Schwenk, MD, Chief of Obstetrics and Gynecology at St. Clare's Hospital in Schenectady gave his views as an OB delivering babies with fathers present and related his experiences with Lamaze-trained couples. He also explained how rooming-in and visits to the mother and new baby on the maternity floor are both permitted at St. Clare's.

Mrs. Mary Desmond, RN, a Lamaze teacher certified by the American Society of Psychoprophalaxis in Obstetrics summed up what the other speakers had said and told of other help available to the expectant parents in her community, Schenectady, such as La Leche League for help in breastfeeding, the Visiting Nurses, Public Health Nurses. She also spoke of changes in maternal care to be expected in the future, such as more use of midwives, maternity "motels," and early release of the mother and baby from hospitals.

Following these talks, a 30-minute film, Not Me Alone, was shown. This film showed a couple going through training in the Lamaze method of prepared childbirth, and the actual birth of their baby. There was a spirited question and answer period of the meeting, during which Theodore Jackaway, MD, of Kingston, described the aspects of family centered maternity care that are now practiced at the local hospitals.

The Ustickes entertained the guest speakers and members of the professional medical community at their home after the meeting.

Saugerties Little Gardens Club

A meeting of the Saugerties Society of Little Gardens was called on Wednesday, Sept. 22 in the Congregational Church on Main Street by President Mrs. John Whriteror.

Mrs. Frank Greco reporting on civic beautification requested assistance with plans to clean and plant flowers in front of the Main Street School. The club plans to place tulip bulbs in the area and also in front of the trees by St. Mary's School. Nominating Committee Chairman Mrs. Earl Moore, and her committee, Miss Jane Ziegler and Mrs. Donald Beckert, presented a slate of officers for the new year. Nominations will be accepted from the floor at the business meeting of October 13 when election of officers will take place, it was announced.

Mrs. Whriteror reviewed Mum Festival arrangements for members and plans were formulated for printing signs to accompany the floral bouquets to be placed in the local banks during the Festival Season.

It was announced plans for the annual luncheon to take place October 27 will be presented at the next meeting by Mrs. Brendan Dooley and Mrs. James C. Babb.

Mrs. William C. Waldele introduced guest speaker, Mrs. James Torpy, who demonstrated artful arrangements of Terrariums. Mrs. Torpy is a member of the Rhinebeck Garden Club, Dutchess County chairman for the Third District, and has been secretary and corresponding secretary for the Third District. After Mrs. Torpy's presentation and after observing the various types of Terrariums that can be made, members became engaged in making their terrariums these were later displayed.

After the workshop meeting, refreshments were served by hostesses Mrs. Hugo Knauer, Mrs. William C. Waldele and Mrs. Augustus Modjeska. The next club meeting will be on Wednesday, Oct. 13 at 1:30 p.m. It will be held at the home of Mrs. George Sawutz, 43 Finger Street, Saugerties, the business meeting will include the annual meeting reports and election of officers.

Giants and Dodgers Both Blow It

It's the Stroke of Midnight

By JOE CARNICELLI

UPI Sports Writer

Chub Feeney, the National League president, couldn't have written the script much better if he tried.

The NL's Western Division race has gone down to today's season finale still undecided with the San Francisco Giants clutching to their one-game lead over the Los Angeles Dodgers.

San Diego edged the Giants 4-1 Wednesday night on Nate Colbert's three-run homer in the 10th inning and Houston blasted the Dodgers 11-0 to set up some interesting possibilities tonight. The Giants send ace Juan Marichal (17-11), who's been bothered by a sore hip, against San Diego's best pitcher, Dave Roberts (14-16). Don Sutton (16-12) will pitch for the Dodgers against Houston's Jack Billingham (10-15), a former Dodger.

A San Francisco victory would end the race no matter what the Dodgers do. A Giant loss coupled with a Dodger loss would also insure San Francisco the divisional title. A Giant loss and a Dodger victory would send the teams into a one-game playoff for the championship Friday.

Colbert struck out twice by Jerry Johnson in previous at-bats and saddled with a two-strike count, ended the game with his 27th home run after Tommy Dean singled and was forced at second by Don Mason and John Jeter was safe on Tito Fuentes' error. Clay Kirby in the game. Houston erupted for four runs in the first inning and blasted Dodger pitching for 16 hits to romp to victory. Bob Watson and Larry Howard each had three runs batted in and Ken Forsch scattered nine hits in gaining the shutout.

"Downing just had one of those nights," said Dodger Manager Walter Alston. "He certainly was due to have one. But don't forget if it hadn't been for Mr. Downing, we probably wouldn't have gotten this far. There's not much else I can say except that they beat the hell out of us. It was nice to have the Giants lose since we lost."

Sutton was confident he could get the job done against the Astros tonight. "I feel I'm capable of holding any team to two runs or less," he said. "I know what I can do and if the team can get me three runs, we can win."

Astros Manager Harry Walker said he'll continue to go with front-line players. "It's the only fair thing to do," said Walker. "People pay to see us play and we have to try to do our best."

In the only other NL game scheduled, Montreal edged Chicago 6-5 while in the American League, Oakland edged Kansas City 8-7. Cleveland nipped Detroit 2-1. New York trimmed Washington 6-3. Minnesota downed California 1-0. Chicago shaded Milwaukee 2-1 and Baltimore got by Boston 1-0.

Ron Hunt, hit by a pitch for a record 50th time this season earlier in the game, singled home Clyde Mashore with the winning run in the bottom of the ninth to lift the Expos over Chicago. Mashore singled and moved to second on a walk before Hunt's hit.

Curt Blefary's two-run double in the ninth inning lifted playoff-bound Oakland past Kansas City in the last game of the regular season for both teams.

Baltimore recorded its 11th consecutive victory as Brooks Robinson accounted for the game's only run with his 20th homer in the second inning to defeat the Red Sox. Grant Jackson, Tom Dukes and Eddie Watt combined on the shutout. Bill Melton hit two home runs to tie Norm Cash of Detroit and Reggie Jackson of Oakland for the league lead with 32 and Wilbur Wood pitched a five-hitter for his 22nd victory as Chicago beat Milwaukee.

Rookie Vince Colbert, the only Cleveland starter to complete a game since Aug. 17, did it again with a sixth-inning performance as the Indians beat Detroit.

Mickey Lolich, who went all the way in a losing effort for the Tigers, became the first AL pitcher to throw 373 innings since Ed Walsh's 393 in 1912 and the first in the majors since Grover Alexander's 388 in 1917. He finished with a 25-14 record.

Felipe Alou drove in two runs during a four-run fifth inning that enabled Mel Stottlemyre and the Yankees to beat Washington. Alou singled with the bases loaded and Ron Hansen then singled in the eventual winning run.

Rick Renick homered in the second for the game's only run and Bert Blyleven made it stand up for his 16th victory as the Twins beat California.

THE GOOD NEWS — With the Dodgers trailing the Houston Astros 11-0 in the 8th inning Wednesday night, the Dodger Stadium message board became very important to Dodger fans as they awaited word of the San Francisco Giants-Padres game in San Diego. When the word was flashed that the Padres had won (top photo) seat cushions rained onto the field and time was called as the cushions were picked up by Dodger players. The Giants lost gave Dodgers one last chance for a tie in National League West. (UPI TELEPHOTO) Aetain

Stadium Surface Haunts Playoffs

BALTIMORE (UPI)—Baltimore and Oakland begin their American League championship series Saturday on the worst field the league has to offer. Oriole skipper Earl Weaver says it will work to his advantage.

The Memorial Stadium turf got the worst end of two Baltimore Colts football games played in driving rain the last two Sundays.

Head groundskeeper Pat Santorene directed a crew of two dozen men who worked 48 straight hours to get the field in something like playable condition for Tuesday's doubleheader with Boston. They worked some more before last night's game and were back on the field this morning.

When asked if the field would be ready for the playoffs, Santorene said, "it'll be ready...for something."

Third baseman Brooks Robinson said, "It's awful. I'd like to say everything will be okay for the playoffs, but I said it I wouldn't believe it."

"I can picture the playoffs being settled on a bad hop," predicted outfielder Paul Blair. Robinson agreed. "There will be some bad hops," said the golden glove. "I just hope they don't go against us."

Weaver noted that the bad surface will work against both clubs. "I expect us to make the better of a bad situation," he said.

"I have the best infield with the quickest hands in baseball," Weaver said. "If there is a bad hop, I have to believe my guys will control it better than any other defense."

The A's are scheduled to arrive Thursday night, but won't get a look at the field until an afternoon workout Friday.

The Orioles planned a brief workout this morning and an intra squad game Friday morning.

Ginger a Party Spoiler?

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 71-year reign of baseball in the nation's capital comes to an end tonight, and the biggest splash may be made by a windy lady named Ginger.

"I don't think there will be a final game," said slugger Frank Howard. "I hope we do get it in and give the fans one last good game. But the rain is coming hard."

Hurricane Ginger was pounding the southern Virginia shore early today with the storm expected to be felt in Washington sometime tonight. Weathermen called the chance of rain by game time 50-50. The New York Yankees dampened what might have been the farewell game for the Senators, 6-3, Wednesday night. Felipe Alou stroked a bases-loaded single to lead a four-run Yankee rally in the fifth.

The American League already has approved the Senators' move to Dallas-Fort Worth next season, although there is a strong possibility the two best-known players, Howard and former 31-game winner Denny McLain, may not be making the trip.

Howard said he wants to be dealt away. Manager Ted Williams has been openly cool toward McLain, a 22-game loser this year, and it is widely thought that McLain could be traded for the second time in as many winters.

"I'm sure Dallas deserves a major league team, and it's going to roll out the welcome mat, but I'm sorry it had to be our ball club," said Howard. "I'd like to go with the established club," he said, "preferably one closer to home."

Howard said he would go home to Green Bay, Wis., for a couple of weeks, then sit down with owner Bob Short "to let him know what I'm thinking."

McLain, obtained by Short as a drawing card in an often-criticized trade with Detroit, said the shift to Dallas might increase his chances of staying with the Senators. But he added:

"I don't want to have another year ever like this one. It's been the most frustrating and it's been an embarrassing one, because I haven't pitched that bad."

McLain remains the Senators' second biggest winner with his 10-22 record, but he hasn't had the batting support he got in his banner years at Detroit when he won 31 and 24.

"When you have good years, one after the other, you don't realize how good the club behind you is until you leave it," McLain said.

Washington, now abandoned by American League teams twice in 11 years, is trying to attract the San Diego Padres from the National League as a replacement next season, but the move still is viewed as unlikely.

Players said they would like to see the fans get a new franchise. Howard said, "People in this town deserve a major league club. They have had nothing but losers in my lifetime."

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Pittsburgh Pirates' Manager Danny Murtaugh is observing the fight for first place in the National League West with the calm demeanor of a person who couldn't care less about its outcome.

That may surprise some people because the Bucs are going to have to face the winner—either the Los Angeles Dodgers or the San Francisco Giants—for the 1971 National League Pennant.

What may surprise Pittsburgh fans even more is Murtaugh's observation that "we don't care" who wins the race for the Western crown.

It's surprising because Murtaugh, by all the evidence, should be rooting for the Dodgers to win the race.

Consider the facts: The Pirates are 8-4 against the Dodgers this year, including 5-1 in Los Angeles itself. On the other hand, the Bucs are 3-9 against the Giants and 1-5 in Candlestick Park. And the two opening games in the playoff will be played in the West.

Stewart Among Missing In Grand Prix Tuneups

WATKINS GLEN, N.Y. (UPI)—The rest of the field waited today for the arrival of the favorite for Sunday's $276,000 Grand Prix of the United States.

Jackie Stewart of Scotland, with six victories and the Formula One driving title already stashed away this season, stayed away during early practice sessions on Tuesday and Wednesday for the race.

He had tested the circuit a week before in a hard time testing campaign in his Tyrrell. In Stewart's absence, the new 2.7-mile circuit belonged to defending champion Emerson Fittipaldi of Brazil.

Fittipaldi turned the fastest laps on both Tuesday and Wednesday in his Lotus 72.

His best time for the circuit was 1:44.6 for an average speed of 116.22 mph on Wednesday.

His time was just four-tenths of a second faster than Clay Regazzoni of Switzerland in a Ferrari. New Zealand's Denis Hulme was third in a McLaren.

At 1:45.6, followed by Chris Amon of New Zealand at 1:45.6 in a Matra Simca and John Surtees of England at 1:45.7 in a Surtees.

Although Mark Donohue plans to drive at Trenton, N.J., in a testing campaign in his Tyrrell. USAC 300-mile race, he showed up at practice on Wednesday and said he will qualify his McLaren on Saturday. If rain postpones the Trenton race for the second straight weekend, Donohue will fly here to drive the McLaren.

Top Ten College Teams Figure to Romp

College Football Forecast

By United Press International

All the top 10 college football teams figure to win again this week with nine out of 10 likely to romp.

Eighth-ranked Oklahoma, picked by eight points over Southern California, is the only top tenner rated that close to its opponent in the weekly forecast prepared by UPI's seven regional experts.

Michigan, No. 2, rates the widest edge—37 points over hapless Navy.

The lineup of forecasters: The East by Fred McMane; UPI New York; The Midwest by Ed Sainsbury; UPI Chicago; The Midlands by Charlie Smith; UPI Kansas City; The South by David M. Moffit, UPI Atlanta; The Southwest by Mike Rabun, UPI Dallas; The Far West by Joe Sargis, UPI San Francisco; The Rockies by Tracy Ringolsby, Jr., UPI Cheyenne.

The East

Penn State 28, Air Force 17—Mitchell and Harris fly too fast for the Falcons.

West Virginia 22, Pittsburgh 21—Home team rates one-point edge in this annual bloodbath, but that's all.

Army 13, Missouri 10—The Cadets are sky high from last week's upset while the Tigers are not as strong as usual.

Princeton 23, Columbia 6—Princeton rebounds after last week's shocking loss to Rutgers.

Also: Cornell 6 over Rutgers, Pennsylvania 6 over Brown, Villanova 6 over Delaware, Temple 6 over Boston U., Yale 19 over Colgate, Harvard 15 over Northeastern, Dartmouth 21 over Holy Cross.

The Midwest

Northwestern 20, Wisconsin 14—Wildcats have tougher defense.

Purdue 27, Iowa 13—Either way, a none-winner wins.

Notre Dame 26, Michigan State 7—Irish offense gets back in gear.

Michigan 46, Navy 9—Middies could use a cannon.

Ohio State 28, California 7—Hayes can't lose two straight.

Also: Washington 28 over Illinois, Syracuse 12 over

Indiana, Minnesota 13 over Kansas, Western Michigan 6 over Bowling Green, Iowa State 8 over Kent State, Miami, O., 19 over Marshall, Toledo 10 over Ohio U., Southern Illinois 14 over Wichita State, Quantico 7 over Xavier.

The Midlands

Colorado 31 Kansas State 10—Buffs are too good to let down in front of home folks.

Nebraska 35 Utah State 7—Five touchdowns to one is the Cornhusker formula.

Oklahoma 28, Southern California 20—Sooner offense is one of the best in the nation.

Also: Georgia 17 over Mississippi State, Louisiana State 28 over Rice, Vanderbilt 13 over Virginia, Georgia Tech 10 over Clemson, Wake Forest 8 over Maryland, Florida State 8 over Virginia Tech, Miami 14 over Baylor, South Carolina 20 over Memphis State, Tulane 20 over William and Mary, Boston College 14 over Richmond.

The Southwest

Texas 35, Oregon 7—Long horns warm up for back-to-back showdowns with Oklahoma and Arkansas.

Arkansas 27, Texas Christian 10—Razorbacks unlikely to be upset twice in a row.

Also: Georgia 17 over Mississippi State, Louisiana State 28 over Rice, Vanderbilt 13 over Virginia, Georgia Tech 10 over Clemson, Wake Forest 8 over Maryland, Florida State 8 over Virginia Tech, Miami 14 over Baylor, South Carolina 20 over Memphis State, Tulane 20 over William and Mary, Boston College 14 over Richmond.

Tulsa 19, West Texas State 6—Surprise of Missouri Valley Conference takes another step toward league title.

Also: Southern Methodist 13 over New Mexico State, Texas A&M 12 over Cincinnati, Louisville 7 over Dayton.

The Far West

Stanford 35, Duke 10—Bunce devils Duke.

UCLA 21, Oregon State 17—Bruins finally win one but not easily.

Hawaii 28, Fresno State 14—Rainbows look like the goods.

Also: Long Beach 28 over San Fernando Valley, San Diego State 7 over Northern Illinois, Pacific 14 over Santa Barbara, Cal Poly Pomona 20 over Los Angeles State.

Also: Georgia 17 over Mississippi State, Louisiana State 28 over Rice, Vanderbilt 13 over Virginia, Georgia Tech 10 over Clemson, Wake Forest 8 over Maryland, Florida State 8 over Virginia Tech, Miami 14 over Baylor, South Carolina 20 over Memphis State, Tulane 20 over William and Mary, Boston College 14 over Richmond.

Army Routes State

WEST POINT and locked up the meet for Saturday's contest at Albany State.

Army handed New Paltz State its second straight cross country defeat here Thursday as the Cadets clobbered the Hawks, 19-44.

Bill Reinhardt of the host team crossed the wire first in 28.37 followed by New Paltz ace Nipsy Spadaro in 29.02.

But after Spadaro it was all West Point as five Cadets bolted down the next five spots and locked up the meet for Saturday's contest at Albany State.

The Hawks' Larry Levitz, Dennis Schook, Bob Cunningham, and John Mazzucco were ninth through 12th.

New Paltz Coach Ed Bell said that the schedule has played a big part in his team's slow start. "We have our toughest three meets first," he commented, referring to the losses to Queens and Army and the results: NEW PALTZ 44

Tenpin Roundup

North 4th in PBA

TRENTON, N. J. Al North of Saugerties, won $275 for a fourth place finish in Eastern Regional PBA bowling tournament at Curtis Lanes here.

North won two games and lost four and knocked down 4254 pins for 213-plus average for the 20 game route.

Ernie Schlegel, the PBA regular tour veteran, won the event with a 5-1-0 record worth $1,000.

Schlegel averaged only 211 but picked up 150 bonus pins to take first place.

Bill Zuben of Wilmington, Mass., led the field with a 4335 pinfall but won three and lost three for $500. Joe Tusa Jr., Brooklyn, was fourth and Tony Muscato of Havre de Grace, Maryland finished fifth.

The victory was Schlegel's second in the Eastern regionals. He triumphed here on Sept. 18. Earlier, he had finished second at College Lanes.

The tournament was highlighted by Bill Zuben's 300 game which helped him to a second-place finish. Zuben, from Wilmington, Mass., is the current ABC doubles champion and received an additional $100 from host proprietor Jim Curtis for the first 300 ever rolled at the establishment.

Name Davis Cup Players

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (UPI)—Ed Turville, non-playing captain of the U.S. Davis Cup team, today announced the four men who will defend the Cup in the Challenger Round against Romania Oct. 8-9-10.

Stan Smith of Pasadena, the U.S. Open champion, heads the quartet. Named with him were Clark Graebner of New York, Erik Van Dillen of San Mateo, Calif., and Frank Froehling III of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla.

The Americans will be opposed by the veteran Romanians pair of Elie Nastase and Ion Tiriac, who will be joined by Petre Marmureanu and Viorel Marcu, according to the team announced by Romanian non-playing captain Stefan Georgescu.

Pairings for the singles matches will be announced on Oct. 7.

Turville is expected to use Smith and probably Graebner in singles play and pair Smith and Van Dillen in the doubles.

The Americans will be opposed by the veteran Romanians pair of Elie Nastase and Ion Tiriac.

Police Penalize Rocky Thompson

NEW YORK (UPI)—Rocky Thompson, the No. 1 draft choice of the New York Giants, was arrested Wednesday near Yankee Stadium on minor charges police said.

Thompson, a running back from West Texas State, was stopped by an officer in a patrol car near the Stadium when it appeared the car he was driving was an unlicensed vehicle.

According to a police spokesman, Thompson used "abusive and obscene language" to the officer and was locked up briefly until it could be determined if he was wanted for any other crime.

Frank Crosetti In Last Season

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. (UPI)—Frank Crosetti, in the major leagues since 1932 as a player or coach, will not return as the third base coach of the Minnesota Twins in 1972, the Twins announced Wednesday.

President Calvin Griffith said the Twins, struggling for a fourth place finish in the American League West, would go for four rather than five coaches next season. Crosetti, Griffith said, left for home and "he's retired."

Crosetti, en route to his California home, could not be reached for comment.

Coach Delvecchio Speaking

Troy High Fears Kingston Eleven

By IRA FUSFELD

KINGSTON — "I'm very impressed with Kingston High School. It has tremendous balance and it must be one of their best teams in years."

The speaker was Gene Delvecchio, coach of the Flying Horses from Troy High School, talking about the 1971 edition of the Maroon football team which has staged a complete reversal of form by going undefeated and unscored upon in two games this season.

Delvecchio brings Troy to Dietz Stadium Saturday for a better this week as we correct a few mistakes."

Kingston opened the season with a 28-13 win over Cardinal Mount Pleasant, then ran into Mount Pleasant and took a 35-22 beatdown from last year's ing.

"I guess you'd say we have a balanced team because we're pressing with Kingston, he certainly isn't fearing his squad's meeting with the rejuvenated game," Delvecchio explained.

Kingston Coach Tony Badalato said his 1-1 Flying Horses. "I expect that we'll be running game as they did in the 21-0 Poughkeepsie triumph and in the 45-0 Linton crusher. "They can really explode," Badalato said of Troy, "and for us to win we're going to have to get to them first."

Kingston survived the Linton game without any new injuries. Only Rich Elmendorf remains sidelined with a slight tear in his achilles tendon.

The Maroons displayed a new facet to the delighted crowd last week and that was depth. All three Kingston quarterbacks third in a row, the Maroons would have to establish their substitutes entered the game in the waning minutes.

Another surprise was the long distance place-kicking of Bruce McCrindle, whose field goals suddenly showed that KHS could score from as far as 20-25 yards out.

EXTRA POINTS — Following the Troy game, Kingston has a week off before hosting Middletown on Oct. 16. . . . In last season's opener, Troy bested Kingston, 14-12. In that one, Troy led 14-6 in the third quarter but when the Maroons hit paydirt on a John Tiano plunge, the score jumped to 14-12. But KHS missed the two-point conversion and a chance to tie as quarterback Ralph Perry's toss just missed Tiano's outstretched hands.

NFL Players Go on Offense

WASHINGTON (AP) — is relying on "public opinion" to force the NFL to take action on artificial turf are under attack by the National Football League Players Association.

Ed Garvey, executive director of the NFLPA, asked Wednesday for a halt in further installation of artificial fields and an end to closed-circuit telecasts of home pro football games.

Garvey said his organization

"We will request a meeting with the players' executive committee to directly and privately express our deep concern with these misstatements of fact made by their representative," Mara said.

The Denver Broncos announced they would beam their Oct. 3 game with Kansas City live into the Denver coliseum which seats 8,000 people. The Washington Redskins plan to show their final four home games on closed-circuit TV at the Washington Coliseum.

Garvey said the move by Denver and Washington "will undoubtedly be followed by similar announcements in other team cities where season tickets have been sold out."

He said the association was "told by Commissioner (Pete) Rozelle and Mr. (Tex) Schramm, chairman of the NFL, to determine if artificial turf is causing an "alarming number of football injuries."

He said he had written all NFL general managers and trainers asking them to cooperate in the study, entirely financed by the association.

"Every NFL club that has responded to our request has informed us in what is essentially a form letter that the matter is being referred to the National Football League Player Relations Association—the committee established for collective bargaining and labor problems by the owners," Garvey said.

The study will continue throughout this season, even if the owners do not cooperate, Garvey said. One aim of the study is to find out if which type of turf causes the least injuries so there could be a choice if artificial turf is continued.

Trouble Follows Weeb

By JOE CARNICELLI
UPI Sports Writer

Weeb Ewbank must be beginning to feel like the little cartoon character with the black cloud constantly hanging over his head. Trouble just seems to follow him around.

Ewbank's New York Jets were considered among the front-runners for American Conference title honors before the 1971 season began. Then things started to happen.

First, George Sauer, the Jets' talented wide receiver, abruptly announced his retirement. Then defensive end Verlon Biggs played out his option and signed with the Washington Redskins. Then Joe Namath, who missed most of the 1970 season and returned this year in terrific shape, was injured in the first half of the first pre-season game and lost for three months. And on top of that, Matt Snell, the team's best running back, suffered a knee injury against Kansas City and has yet to see action.

The incredible string that began with injuries to Namath and Snell last season continued when veteran tight end Pete Lammons and rookie defensive tackle Scott Palmer were injured in an auto accident Tuesday night. Lammons suffered bruises and his condition for Sunday's game against the Miami Dolphins is questionable. Palmer, however, suffered six broken ribs and collapsed lungs and is expected to miss most of the season.

"I had to swerve suddenly to avoid another car and when I did this, Scott fell over on me and I lost control and hit a light pole," said Lammons. "I've been driving in New York for six years and it's the first accident I've ever had."

Ewbank's immediate problem is to beef up the offense, which has scored only 10 points in two losses to Baltimore and St. Louis, and to plug a gap at left cornerback, where regular Steve Tannen is on the move list with an injured knee.

"We're not as bad as our 0-2 record," said Ewbank. "We have good running backs and Al (Woodall) showed against St. Louis that he can throw the ball. His big problem in the past was just that, he wasn't throwing the ball. We're going against one of the fine teams in our conference in their own back yard but we're not ready to throw in the towel yet. We need to score more points. We lost that last game (17-10 to St. Louis) and we can't get it back."

"I don't think you're out of it until you're mathematically eliminated," he added. "We played well enough to win against St. Louis but we just didn't get the breaks."

Ewbank praised defensive ball player and he can break up tackle Roger Finn and games. "I think Bob Griese is defensive end Mark Lomas for one of the great young players and added that Rich

ACT ON THESE

1) Aluminum and frame raised ranch with 4 bedrooms, 1 1/2 ceramic tiled baths, living room, dining room, large eat-in kitchen with some built-ins, paneled family room, laundry, 2 car garage, some wall to wall carpeting, large landscaped lot with aluminum storage shed. All in A-1 condition. $32,000.

2) Red brick ranch with 3 large bedrooms, 3 1/2 baths, 23x15 living room with brick fireplace, formal dining room, large eat-in kitchen with built-ins, basement has 3 room apartment easily converted to large family room. My present owners are sad to leave me because my 4 large bedrooms and 2 1/2 baths are just great for the children, plus the extra lot for ball games. The 2 car attached garage, full basement and attic offer excellent storage space. My Realtor now and see me for only $28,900.

Your Horoscope

Friday, October 1

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A day and evening to make sure that you do nothing to upset any present conditions. There is considerable likelihood you will be eager to make some changes but be sure not to do anything that would be indiscreet and unwise. Use your best judgment every way.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) You will find it difficult to persuade a good friend so make your own plan for improving your present situation. Assist others who are in need. Count your blessings. Be wise.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Take the time to assist good pals. The social could bring trouble if you are not alert. Don't jeopardize friendship of a vital contact. Study a personal matter more thoroughly.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Don't take any risks where career work is concerned or you could get in trouble. Seek advice from experts and then become more proficient at your work. Take it easy tonight.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Obtain the knowledge you need from newcomers who are experts in your field of endeavor. Seek new interests. Don't waste time with one who is annoying and superficial.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Plan how best to eliminate responsibilities you have. Your hunches are not very good today, so forget them. Use your best judgment and all is fine. Relax this evening.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Many problematical affairs come up with associates so use tact and all works out just fine.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You must complete those jobs you started, so don't try to get away without doing them. Do not argue with co-workers. You can reap the benefits of your labors later on.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You want a good time, which is fine provided you stick to proven pleasure. Do not try to force others to go along with you. Find the right creative hobby to enjoy on your vacation.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Try not to add to problems which family ties already have, but help them instead. Eliminate the root cause of trouble. Make the evening a happy one at home. Be poised.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Exercise much care in motion and avoid trouble. Think twice before you speak. Don't forget to count the change when you go out shopping. Use your own judgment when making purchases.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Engage in financial affairs that are important right now. Plan how to best repair your property so that it will be worth much more. Economy should be the keynote right now. Be wise.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Not a good day for entertaining.

Make sure you do not get together with a person who can bring trouble into your life. Improve your appearance and health. Get plenty of rest.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those young people who will like to settle problems so be sure to give an opportunity to do this. Give crossword puzzles and other mental games to work on. Then direct education along artistic or governmental lines and there is bound to be fame in this chart, especially since there is a compassionate nature here. Give a good religious background to feed on. Sports are fine, too.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Jean Adams' TEEN FORUM

TOO MUCH: (Q.) Talk about girls. Boy, do they trouble me! There's this girl who always hangs around me. I like girls, but not that much. And too much is too much. What do I do?—Bugged in Indiana.

(A.) No girl should chase a boy, but some do. Most girls even those who chase boys, can understand straight talk. If a boy is honest with such a type, and tells her she's bugging him she will generally go away.

When the right girl comes along, you won't want her to go away.

BLACK-WHITE: (Q.) I was at this party. I was the only black there. I talked to this girl and danced with her and we got to knowing each other better. While we were sitting on the sofa I put my arm around her. She didn't move. I asked her how it felt to have a black fellow's arm around her. She said it felt the same as a white fellow's arm.

When the party broke up I asked her in a gentlemanly way if I could walk her home. She said yes. We held hands as we walked home. At her door she asked me for a good-night kiss and I gave it to her.

I like her, and my white friend told me that she told him she likes me. But what will my friends think of me going with her? And what will her friends think of her going with me?—15 and Black in Ohio.

(A.) Far more important than what you and her friends think is what you and she think. At the present you know only that you like each other. You do not know, for instance, how much she likes you—enough to date you, enough to go steady, enough to seriously consider marrying you when both of you are old enough?

If you do date her, you must be completely honest about your feelings and she must be the same about hers. Nothing must be taken for granted, no questions left unanswered.

If you get along well on dates, then each of you must decide for yourself about the next step, and the next, and the next.

If she is worth more to you and you are worth more to her than "what other people think," then you have your answer. But be very sure.

'McMillan' Weak Despite Rock

NEW YORK (AP) — There of attractive Rock Hudson, it with distinctive sneakers—he Maybe it would help things if Myrna Loy of "The Thin Man," the three series which will fill the weekly 90-minute "Mystery Movie."

Hudson, with longish hair and handlebar mustache, plays a swinging San Francisco police commissioner who seems to spend most of his time dealing with assassins, open graves and collapsing curtain rods. He seems to be the one straight man in a cast of comedians.

The show opened with the McMillan moving into a new house. Miss Saint James opened what she believed to be a barrel of wedgewood, but it contained a corpse. By the time help arrived, the barrel and its contents had disappeared.

What was designed to be a merry romp followed. A man comedy part has to work. James screamed in terror a lot but kept on doing unlikely things including visiting a sinister warehouse alone after hours. Hudson kept rescuing her—finally from a barrel which had been tossed in a river—and assuring her that everything would be all right.

The comedy murder is an acceptable entertainment form—such classics as "Seven Keys to Baldpate" and "Arsenic and Old Lace" prove that. But the minutes.

Bridge

Old Timers Like Mod Bids

By Oswald and James Jacoby

Since getting back into bridge Y and Z have been learning as many modern bidding gadgets as possible. Thus, when Y jumped to four clubs, Z realized that his partner was using a splinter bid to establish spades as the trump suit and to show a singleton club.

Z didn't have much of a hand but a singleton club fitted with his weak club suit. Anyway Z in an over-bidder so he cue bid four hearts.

This gave Y a chance to use another gadget. He bid five no-trump. This is the grand-slam force invented by Ely Culbertson almost 40 years ago and revived by the modernists. It asks partner to bid a grand-slam with two of the three top trump honors. Z obliged.

West opened the three of trumps. Z won with dummy's eight and tried to count to 13 tricks. There were 11 in top cards. Two more could be obtained by ruffing twice in either hand and Z decided to attempt to ruff two of dummy's diamonds.

DIGGING FOR SURVIVORS — Rescuers dig frantically amid rubble for survivors after bomb exploded in Belfast, Ireland's crowded Four Step Inn in predominantly Protestant area of Shankill Road, killing at least two and injuring several others. Most of the patrons were soccer supporters en route home following European Cup match between Linfield-Standard Liege. (UPI CABLEPHOTO).

Belfast Pub Blast Kills Two

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (UPI) — A bomb which wrecked a pub full of celebrating football fans and killed two of them contained the largest charge of explosives used against a civilian Belfast target in recent memory, an army spokesman said today.

He said the charge of about 75 pounds of gelignite blasted the Four Step Inn in the predominantly Protestant Shankill Road area of Belfast Wednesday at about 10:30 p.m. It went off as crowds of soccer fans hoisted glasses of beer over a close 3-2 victory by Standard of Liege, Belgium, over Linfield in Northern Ireland in a European Cup match.

The explosion killed two persons outright and injured another 27, 12 of them seriously enough to be taken to nearby hospitals where they spent the night, police said.

Protestant militant leader the Rev. Ian Paisley addressed a large crowd drawn by the explosion to the scene and said a new party had been formed in Northern Ireland, aimed at restoration of law and order and the removal of Premier Brian Faulkner's government.

Paisley said the new party, which he did not name, had been formed at a meeting in Belfast. He then persuaded the crowd to break up.

Police said they were surprised the casualties were few in the explosion.

Wednesday's blast occurred less than 24 hours after leaders of the outlawed Irish Republican Army (IRA) vowed there would be "no letup" in their campaign to wrest the largely Protestant North out of British hands and unite it with the Roman Catholic Irish Republic.

Russian Trade Official Blew Lid on Red Spy Ring

LONDON (AP) — A British newspaper said today the defector who blew the lid on a Soviet spy ring in Britain was a Russian trade official arrested last month for drunken driving.

The Daily Express said a hint dropped by a Soviet diplomat Wednesday night led it to identify the defector as Oleg Lialine, 34.

The hint was a comment by embassy second secretary Vladimir Pavlov to a reporter that the defector was a trade official recently involved in a traffic case.

After checking police records, the newspaper concluded he meant Lialine, and splashed the story under a giant headline: "Super Spy Oleg."

One test of the Express theory was expected later today when Lialine was due to appear in a London court for the traffic case. If he failed to show up, it could mean he had sought asylum and was in hiding.

Late editions of other newspapers picked up the Express story under headlines reading: "Master Spy Unmasked" and "Oleg, the Spy Who Talked."

Asked to confirm the report, Soviet Embassy and British government officials refused comment.

The British have kept the defector's identity secret since announcing last Friday that a Soviet KGB-secret police agent had chosen asylum here and handed over valuable information on fellow spies. The government then ordered 90 Russian officials out of the country and refused new visas to 15 others.

The Express said that after Lialine was arrested in central London early Aug. 30 he feared

Major Battle Underway Near Cambodian Town

SAIGON (UPI) — American helicopters flew thousands of South Vietnamese troops through curtains of North Vietnamese rocket and mortar fire today in what appeared to be developing as one of the major battles of the Vietnam war.

The fighting around the besieged Cambodian town of Krek 85 miles northwest of Saigon also threw some localized phases of the American troop withdrawal program into reverse.

In a delayed communique, the U.S. command reported two Americans killed over Laos Thursday when their A1 Sky-raider fighter-bomber was shot down and said five Americans died last Tuesday when their armored personnel carrier struck a mine in South Vietnam's northernmost province of Quang Tri.

As the helicopters airlifted the South Vietnamese rangers and paratroopers into positions around Krek, allied forces fought their way up Highway 22 between Tay Ninh, South Vietnam and Krek. The convoys were slowed by the blowing up of several bridges on the highway by the Communists.

"The next two days will be critical," an Allied officer said. "We are closing in rapidly. The NVA (North Vietnamese Army) will have to decide quickly what they're going to do. The big question is the weather."

The North Vietnamese have thrown more than three divisions—36,000 men—into their campaign believed designed to embarrass President Nguyen Van Thieu with a defeat only days before Sunday's presidential election in which Thieu is the only candidate.

The fighting around Krek has altered and in some cases reversed the U.S. withdrawal program. Scores of American helicopters — Cobra gunships, carriers—have been flown back to Huey troop carrying choppers to Tay Ninh combat base, 30 miles south of the border. The huge Chinook supply base had been turned over to the South Vietnamese Army months ago.

U.S. Negotiator Issues Warning

PARIS (UPI)—The United States told Communist peace delegates today they were "further from military victory than ever" in Indochina and called for immediate negotiations on a cease-fire.

William J. Porter, the U.S. peace negotiator, warned Hanoi and Viet Cong delegates that the United States and South Vietnam would not be swayed by Communist claims of military victories.

"Your military position is unimpressive," Porter said, in a criticism of the Communist delegates' tough language and the demands they have made here.

Porter spoke shortly after the Viet Cong's Dinh Ba Thi, quoting a Biblical saying, said President Nixon was sowing the wind by supporting South Vietnam's President Nguyen Van Thieu, and that he would "reap a whirlwind." He called Thieu's shoot-to-kill order against firebombing demonstrators a "fascist decision."

Porter said that despite years of Communist military efforts their troops had failed to seize any of the 300 districts and provincial capitals in South Vietnam.

"You are, in fact, further from military victory than ever," Porter said. "In such circumstances, your use of peremptory language seems rather pretentious."

Porter urged the Communists to separate the issue of release of war prisoners from other military and political subjects. He demanded that the Communists agree to impartial international inspection of prisoner camps, regular mail exchanges with their families and release of seriously ill or wounded prisoners, and those held for long periods.

The U.S. negotiator again suggested that a neutral nation be chosen to provide custody for at least the category of war prisoners held for a long time.

But the chief American commander in Military Region III, which takes in the 11 provinces surrounding Saigon, insisted the battle of Krek would be fought mostly by South Vietnamese.

Lt. Gen. V. V. Wagstaff told UPI correspondent Kenneth J. Braddock that the number of American troops in Region III has dropped from 86,000 men a year ago to 22,000 now.

The U.S. command reported today that 29 Americans were killed in Indochina last week, the highest combat death toll since July 10. It brought to 45,543 the number of Americans killed in the war since Jan. 1, 1961.
